Find Nearly $200 Hidden In Room At Court House

Janitress Discovers $197 In Bills Under Bottles In Wash Room

SHERIFF NOTIFIED
AFTER DISCOVERY

May Be Money Reported
Missing From Pitts'
Office Month Ago

While cleaning one of the wash rooms at the court house on Saturday, Janitress Rachael Bowden discovered $197 in bills hidden away under some bottles. She immediately took the money down to City Treasurer Joseph Hartland, and Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard was notified of the find.

Some time before County Treasurer William O. Pitts left office, a sum of money between $200 and $300 was reported missing from his office. An effort was made to locate the thief but no evidence could be secured on which to base charges.

The money, it is said, was taken at different times. It was money that had come into the office from tax collectors and was kept in a place separate from the remainder of the cash until it could be checked up with the collector's books.

Made Up Shortage.
When Pitts was ready to leave the county treasurer's office there was a shortage in his accounts to the extent of the money that had been stolen. He made up this shortage out of his own pocket.

Hope of finding any of the money had been given up when Mrs. Bowden discovered it. From it's appearance it had lain in a closet of the wash room for some time, as the bills were dirty. The bottles under (Continued On Page Two)

Two men were seen going up West Washington street adorned in white trousers and black jackets and black hats. The presented quite an unusual appearance dressed in white pants with the mercury hovering near zero.

Newsboys selling papers on the Diamond yesterday had a fire built in an old oil drum which was standing in the street. This is one method of keeping warm, but most of us prefer staying at home.

Those careless and destructive individuals who care little or nothing for public property leave tell-tale marks upon the Diamond when they now "short-cut" over the lawn. It is no wonder that grass will not grow as it should in this lawn if people walk over it as often in the summer as their tracks indicate they do in this winter weather.

Easter comes on April 12 this year.

Visitors to Oil City tell Pa. News that the Allegheny river is frozen solid for many miles and is furnishing ice skating for many followers of the sport.

Mrs. William Rouse of 205 Euclid avenue reports that zero weather did not prevent several youths in that vicinity from getting out and flying kites. It seemed rather incongruous considering the weather. She also states that she has been putting out peanuts for the squirrels to eat, and wondered what made them disappear so fast. She found that blackbirds were eating them.

Local residents were agreeably surprised this morning to awaken and find that the temperature had gone up during the night instead (Continued On Page Two)

Search Chicago For Contractor

Fear Wealthy Wisconsin
Contractor Slain Or Kidnaped

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—With a blood-stained, abandoned automobile as their only clue, detectives today began a city-wide search for Harry H. Wells, wealthy Wisconsin trucking contractor, believed slain or kidnaped.

Wells' brother-in-law, Henry Burg, arrived here last night to aid detectives. He revealed Wells had been paying large sums to blackmailers and had been threatened with torture if the payments were not increased.

Wells left his home at Monroe, Wis., last Tuesday to come to Chicago on business, planning to return to Monroe Wednesday. Wednesday, Burg told detectives, he received a letter from Wells mailed from Cudahy, Wis., Tuesday night, telling of extortion threats.

Wells' blood-stained automobile was found abandoned by police early Wednesday. In it was a hat identified as Wells' by Burg.

Accused Woman
To Take Stand
In Own Defense

Mrs. Marguerite Fox Dolbow
To Give Testimony In Salem, N. J., Court

(International News Service)
SALEM, N. J., Feb. 3.—Primped by beauty parlor treatments, Mrs. Marguerite Fox Dolbow today was to take the witness stand in her own defense at her trial for the slaying of her husband, Harry, on their farm near here last August.

Mrs. Dolbow and her alleged sweetheart, Norman Driscoll, are accused of killing Dolbow to clear the way for their marriage. Both are expected to testify soon after the defense opens its case today.

Defense attorneys intimated that Mrs. Dolbow would admit a long illicit romance with Driscoll, but will vehemently deny that she planned or aided in the slaying of her farmer-husband.

Driscoll, defense lawyers hinted, also will tell the jury of secret meetings he arranged with Mrs. Dolbow. He, too, will deny the slaying.

Farmer Is Found
Frozen To Death

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Feb. 3.—A heart attack followed by exposure in the ice and snow was blamed today by Coroner W. G. Stroble for the death of George Geiger, 28, Erie county farmer, whose frozen body was found a short distance from his home on Wolfe road. His death was the second here from exposure this winter.

Student Completing Four Year University Course In Few Months

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—College bred may be a four year loaf for most undergraduates, but Donald MacMurray, 21-year-old New Yorker, isn't even waiting for the dough to rise.

But two departmental examinations stand between MacMurray and his bachelor's degree from the University of Chicago which he entered last fall as a freshman.

MacMurray registered under the university's "new plan" which enables a student to progress as fast as he is able. He has already passed seven of the nine examinations which cover the work normally done in four years.

Education Record
If he is graduated in June he will have established an educational sprint record. The best previous record for educational achievement was made by Mrs. Martha Friedman Marenof, 35, Paterson, N. J., who entered the university in October, (Continued On Page Two)

Matthew Gunton Taken By Death

Widely Known Resident Passes Away After Illness, On Sunday

BORN IN ENGLAND;
SPENT 30 YEARS HERE

Following a brief illness, Matthew Gunton, 71, of 2309 Highland avenue, died in the New Castle hospital on Sunday, February 2, at 12:45 p. m.

To many of his friends his death will come as a shock as his illness was known to but a few.

In many ways Matthew Gunton was a most remarkable character. Son of a famous father, he inherited a tradition of social and economic liberalism which marked him during his entire life. A sound business man and a busy one until he retired, he still found time to put into practice many of his theories of social economy which were advocated by his father in his writings.

Mr. Gunton was born in England, October 9, 1865, the son of George and Elizabeth Gunton. George Gunton was a social economist of wide reputation. Among his publications are included, "Trusts and the Public" and an "Outline of Social Economics." His theories of economics are today considered as a guidepost to economic security.

Came To America
In 1874 Matthew Gunton came to America with his parents and lived in Fall River, Massachusetts. Until he was 20 years of age he was engaged in newspaper work. He then affiliated himself with Dr. Emmett Denmore in the mercantile business and later married Miss Lynda Denmore.

Coming to New Castle about 30 years ago Mr. Gunton engaged in a number of business enterprises. He organized the Wampum Coal company, which in 1910 was sold to the Crescent Portland Cement company. He was connected with the Wampum Cement Tile company, the Rose (Continued On Page Two)

BROTHERS DIE IN BURNING HOME

(International News Service)
FAIRMONT, W. Va., Feb. 3.—Fire-blacked ruins today told the story of the heroism of Thomas Adams, 9, who gave his life in a vain attempt to save his brother, Billy, 5, from the flames that destroyed their home.

Thomas and Billy were found dead, locked in each other's arms on the basement stairs, by rescuers. Mrs. Mary Adams, the mother, and three other children escaped, some with slight burns. The fire followed a gas explosion. Thomas carried his three-year-old sister to safety then ran back for Billy.

Will Re-Shape British Crown For New King

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 3.—To be re-shaped to fit King Edward VIII, the crown of King Edward the Confessor will be taken from the tower of London this week and kept under heavy guard while a London firm of jewelers works on it.

Made in 1662 for the coronation of Charles II, this crown is the one used for the coronation of all English monarchs since then. The imperial state crown, which rested on King George's bier as he lay in state, was made for Queen Victoria.

Even though the crown of King Edward the Confessor is made into a perfect fit, it is so heavy that it can rest on the head of the king for only a few minutes during the services in Westminster Abbey.

Message Says Sub In Distress

Mobile, Alabama, Coast Guard Says S-55 In Trouble In Canal
Waters

NAVY SAYS U. S.
HAS NO SUB S-55

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The United States submarine S-55 is in distress off the Canal Zone, coast-guard officials declared today following receipt of a message from the coastguard headquarters at Mobile, Alabama.

The coastguard has no cutters in the vicinity of the submarine closer than the Saranac, which is at Galveston, Tex., and relayed it to coast-guard headquarters here.

The coast guard, however, was positive that a submarine was in distress, and said that doubtless the number on the ship had been read incorrectly.

The coast guard based its position on the message which its Mobile, Ala., station intercepted this morning. The message emanated from the U. S. fleet air and submarine base at Coco Solo.

It read briefly:
"SOS, S-55."
Mobile intercepted the message, which was addressed to the chief of naval operations at Washington, at 7:10 a. m., and relayed it to coast-guard headquarters here.

Strikes Tie Up Two French Ports

(International News Service)
PARIS, Feb. 3.—Strikes for higher pay today tied up two ports, delayed France's naval armament program, and left 12,500 clock and shipyard workers idle.

Hundreds of mobile guards and police were called out in Marseilles, where a walk-out by 4,500 dockyard employees brought shipping to a standstill for the third time in six months.

Lawrence County Bar Association Members Hear Able Addresses

Annual Banquet At Field Club Saturday Night Attended

Loving Cup Is Presented To Former Judge R. L.
Hildebrand.

Bench and bar mingled in happy fellowship at the annual banquet of the Lawrence County Bar Association held Saturday night at the Field Club. Features were an able address by Judge H. McCann, Cambria county; presentation of a loving cup to former Judge R. L. Hildebrand, and a standing tribute to the memory of the late Prothonotary, Ralph M. Campbell.

Guests of honor were Judge John H. McCann, Cambria county; Judge John Wilson, Butler county; Judge Henry Wilson, Beaver county; Judge George H. Rowley, Mercer county. In addition there were members of the bar from Beaver, Butler and Mercer counties, and local county officials.

At Posts Of Honor
The attendance was so large that the main room was used for a dining hall. Tables, tastefully decorated with cut flowers, were arranged lengthwise of the big room, with a

New Senator

MRS. HUEY P. LONG

Mrs. Huey P. Long, widow of the late Senator Long, was appointed by Gov. James A. Noe to serve at least part of her husband's unexpired senate term. She will serve in the upper house until a general election in April fills the seat for the remainder of Long's term expiring next January. It was believed, however, that the Louisiana Democratic state committee would also designate Mrs. Long for the remainder of the unexpired term at its Feb. 5 meeting.

Gov. Hoffman Denies Report

Says He Did Not Promise To Name "Accomplice" Of Hauptmann

GOVERNOR SAYS
"NOTHING NEW"

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Before returning to New Jersey early today after attending the annual dinner of the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers' Association, Gov. Harold Hoffman was asked about reports that he had promised to name an "accomplice" of Bruno Richard Hauptmann in the murder of the Lindbergh baby.

"There's nothing to it," he replied. "The people who spread that story must have used a ouija board on the small statement I gave out yesterday afternoon."

According to the reports the governor was to name the "accomplice" to Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf early this week when the two men held their first conference on the re-opened investigation into the famous crime. The suspect, it was said, answered the description of the stooped, bearded man who dropped a handkerchief outside St. Raymond's cemetery in the Bronx the (Continued On Page Two)

Residents On Ice-Bound Islands Get Provisions By Service Of Dirigible

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The Goodyear Zeppelin corporation's dirigible Enterprise was held in readiness to carry more provisions to the ice-bound inhabitants of Tangier and Smith Islands, off Maryland's eastern shore.

First foodstuffs to reach the islands since the ice closed navigation in Tangier Sound and Chesapeake Bay two weeks ago, were landed yesterday by the airship. All told a half-ton of flour, potatoes, coffee, vegetables and canned milk were dispatched to the islands by the Red Cross.

Commander Karl Lange of the airship said the residents have enough food now to last two days.

Meanwhile a coast guard cutter dispatched from Norfolk, Va., was making a desperate attempt to open (Continued On Page Two)

Report Eleven Japanese Killed In Border Clash

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
TOKYO, Feb. 3.—While continental armies sought to cover up and restrict to a "local incident," a Soviet border clash in which 11 Japanese were reported killed, the newspaper Nichi Nichi shocked Tokyo today with the statement that, in addition to the Soviets' own standing army of 1,300,000 men, Moscow's ally, outer Mongolia has 150,000 trained fighters.

Dispatches from Hsinking, capital of Japan's Manchukuo, said the clash near Tungling flooded Soviet instigation of a mutiny among Manchukuo troops, and the Nichi Nichi story, also from Hsinking, said the Soviets were training and supplying airplanes and other equipment to the Manchukuo.

Most of the 150,000 troops are stationed at Urga (Ulan Bator) the Mongol capital, the newspaper said, together with two cavalry regiments—composed of born riders—infantry, artillery, engineer, and machine gun corps, two aviation units with 100 airplanes, and 2,000 motorized units.

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—With the phenomenal winter drought broken by a furious 24-hour storm which washed down hillsides, marooned 40 persons and capsized two boats, southern California today was promised as readily as it had come. Bringing more than an inch and a half of rain, the storm rode over the Los Angeles area on a 36-mile-an-hour gale. The fall left this region still more than four inches under normal, so extended has the drought been.

Mandamus Against Mayor And Council

City Treasurer Clarence C. Mc-
Kibben Asks That City Pay
For Bond

City Treasurer Clarence C. McKibben presented a petition in court this morning asking for a writ of mandamus on Mayor Charles McGrath, and councilmen B. F. Butler, J. Leon Fink, J. Myron Rice and J. D. Alexander to compel the mayor and council to approve a bond for $30,000 for the city treasurer.

The petition sets forth that the bond is offered by the Eagle Indemnity Company, and that no objection has been offered to the sufficiency of the bond. It is claimed that under the law the city is required to pay for it.

The city has been objecting on account of the premium paid. Judge W. W. Brahm fixed February 5 as a time for hearing.

Coal Storage Is Believed Averted

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Possibility of a local coal shortage was believed averted today as the rising mercury alleviated conditions. Retail deliveries on less than a week's notice were impossible in several sections of the city as demands for fuel skyrocketed because of the intense cold. Available supplies were overtaxed because of a practice among local dealers not to restock their bins until the last week in January and the disruption of river shipments by the ice.

Miners in some sections of Western Pennsylvania worked Saturday usually a "holiday," under a stagger system in order to keep up with the demand.

GROUNDHOG SEES SHADOW

The groundhog put himself squarely on the spot on Sunday, February 2. There was no question about whether or not the sun shone. It was out all day long and if the groundhog didn't see his shadow it was because he was asleep.

And now for six more weeks of winter!

Report Attempt Being Made To Cut Italian Line

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 3.—Ethiopian warriors today were unofficially reported to be making a determined effort to cut the main line of Italian communications north of Makale in a fierce battle which already has been raging for 48 hours.

Despite today's official Italian military communiqué issued in Rome and stating "on the Eritrean front there is nothing noteworthy to report," Reuters news agency circulated an Addis Ababa dispatch reporting the battle was being waged near Hausien, important city of the main line of communications about half way between Makale and the Eritrean border.

Reuters circulated its dispatch "with every reserve." Dedjasmach Ras Kassa Sebat was reported in command of the Ethiopians. Neither side had yet gained an appreciable advantage, according to the report.

Amherst Student Is Found Dead

Believe Student Was Murder Victim, Body Found On Ice Under Bridge

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Feb. 3.—Possible murder victim, the body of Francis O. Grose, 21-year-old Amherst college sophomore, of Great Neck, N. Y., was found lying on the ice of the Connecticut river beneath a railroad bridge today.

His skull was apparently fractured, police said, by an instrument which left a long gash in his head. His left leg was broken.

District Attorney David H. Keedy ordered an autopsy performed by Medical Examiner Thomas Corriden.

The body was identified by Lloyd Walsh, Northampton clothing dealer. The youth's name was on the neck band of his shirt.

President Stanley F. King of Amherst college told State police young Grose disappeared from the campus last night.

The parents of the dead youth live on Old Mill road, Great Neck, N. Y.

BLACK PLATE IS

Plant Is In Operation Again
After Idleness Of Past
19 Months

Promptly at eight o'clock this morning, 12 hot mills of the New Castle plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company resumed operations and for the first time in 19 months black plate was being produced in the plant.

All of the men working today and all of the men who will succeed them on the next two turns have been brought back from the Shenango plant where they have been sharing the work since the New Castle plant went down. The spirit of co-operation exhibited by the Shenango men in the sharing of the work has been most commendable and is an indication of the calibre of the men employed by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company in New Castle.

Men Are Happy
As to the men who are back working in the New Castle plant, there's a lot of broad smiles along the row of hot mills. Walking down the row one could feel the spirit of jubilation of the men as they tossed the iron from furnace to rolls and back again. They were back home again and no traveller returned from a world cruise was more pleased than were the men at work.

The music of the rolls sounded sweeter than that of a world famous symphony orchestra. The smell of the steam and grease and coal smoke was pleasanter in their noses (Continued On Page Two)

No T.V.A. Ruling By Court Today

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The supreme court's decision on constitutionality of the Tennessee Valley Authority Act (TVA) was again postponed today.

A crowd which jammed the court was visibly disappointed as the court concluded its decision day without mentioning the most important constitutional case now before it.

The next decision day on which the court may announce its ruling is February 10.

LOEB IN PLOT TO ESCAPE?

New Turn Taken In Prison Death

State's Attorney To Demand Grand Jury Probe Of Loeb Slaying

CHARGE BOMBS MADE IN PRISON

(International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., Feb. 3.—Investigation of the possibility that a sensational plot to effect a wholesale escape by bombing the walls of the state penitentiary was under way today as state's attorney William R. McCabe prepared to demand a grand jury probe of Loeb's slaying and ugly charges of prison maladministration.

Mccabe said today he was considering demanding that the entire prison yard be dug up in a search for the bomb cache, stating he had "indisputable evidence" explosives had been manufactured by Edward Skopowski, cellmate of Loeb.

The prosecutor said he would endeavor to learn today if Loeb might have been "put on the spot" by fellow convicts who feared he might disclose the escape plot.

Mccabe said the explosives had been manufactured by combining celluloid, used by Skopowski in designing small trucks for sale to prison visitors, and chemicals taken from five prison fire extinguishers.

Inspection of returns is governed by subdivision (a) of section 55, which provides, in effect, that income returns made under the Revenue Act of 1934 shall be open to public inspection only to the extent expressly provided by law or as authorized by the president, and this provision is similar to the provisions of preceding revenue acts. Under existing law and the regulations approved by the president income returns are not open to inspection by the general public.

MATTHEW GUNTON TAKEN BY DEATH

Point Stone and Lime company, and the New Castle Cement tile company. He also was engaged in the real estate development of the north side of New Castle in a large way.

In his later years he interested himself in civic and philanthropic work, being especially interested in housing and living conditions. With the adoption of planning for cities of Pennsylvania, Mr. Gunton took an active interest in this work and for many years was chairman of the Planning Commission of this city. In 1934 he was made president of the Pennsylvania State Planning Commission and brought the state convention to New Castle. He was also a member of the Zoning board and the Board of Appeals.

In CWA Work
In 1933 he was drafted into the work of the Civil Works Administration as assistant administrator for this county. To this work he gave unsparingly of his time and efforts. Later he was chairman of the Board of Appeals for the RWD. All of this work he performed without compensation, but with the satisfaction of a task well done.

He contributed many articles to periodicals on social and economic reform and like his distinguished father had ideas that were in advance of his time. Matthew Gunton was intellectually honest in all his dealings. He believed in the fundamental soundness of the United States and while he did not live to see many of his ideas carried to fruition the day will come when his theories will be considered sound practice.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lynda Gunton, and two sons, Louis Gunton and Matthew Gunton, Jr., all of New Castle. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon, February 4, from the Campbell funeral home at 2 o'clock. The body will be removed to the Campbell parlors this afternoon at four o'clock and from 7 to 9 the family will be there tonight.

of down. It seemed almost spring-like out, compared to what it has been like for the past two weeks.

Young Pa Newc had an unexpected guest at his home on Sunday morning. A large black bird entered the cellar through a small window. Unable to guide the bird to the window, the writer just forgot about the visitor. While eating dinner, young Pa Newc was again greeted by the attractive bird which found its way to the kitchen through an opened door. However, this time the writer succeeded in capturing the bird and then let it loose.

Yesterday's change of climate resulted in an increase of motorists on the highways, young Pa Newc observed while enjoying an afternoon ride on various roads in the county.

Early morning risers are noting that days are lighter around 6:30 and 7 in the morning, lately. Which is a hopeful sign that spring is on the way even if the sun was so bright yesterday that old fellow groundhog could have had his picture snapped had amateur photographers so desired.

Real old fashioned winter, with the ice on the ponds and lakes plenty thick, makes skating the popular sport for adults as well as youth, now that the weather is some better than sub-zero. Big crowds were out yesterday, and this week will probably see even larger crowds following the healthful outdoor diversion.

Continued severe weather has been affecting the highways in this district, it is apparent from a trip over some of the routes on Sunday. Heaved pavement is noticeable in a considerable number of spots.

Leesburg seems to have been in the heart of the snow drifting area during the recent severe weather and blizzards. Snow is piled high along the Perry highway through the village.

Pa Newc was told today that one Leech County farmer found 15 chickens frozen to death when he opened his chicken house on one of those sub-zero mornings last week.

New singing laurels came to the New Castle Eintracht Singing society. Down at the organization's Taylor street clubhouse can be seen a new young man recently in a contest sponsored in Youngstown. The cup was the first prize for the best chorus singing. Individuals of the society also won special recognition.

Still the auto tags get lower in number. Pa Newc yesterday saw this number on an Ohio tag on a car parked at the Castleton "S-ST."

Saturday and Sunday travelers report to Pa Newc that the main highways were in splendid condition for motorists, the roads being cleared of snow.

All of the streams in this area are frozen over from shore to shore, a trip through the county discloses. While heavy snow covers the ice in most locations, skaters have been able to enjoy the ice sports by clearing off a portion of the snow. Ponds which provide ice to put up for the summer, have been frozen to such a thickness that an abundant supply of ice is being stored.

Extreme cold weather of several weeks past has somewhat decreased the usual church attendance at many of the churches in the city and county, it is reported.

Passing along Sycamore Way, this morning, Young Pa Newc noticed an unusually large icicle which has formed on a pipe adjoining a building. The icicle probably measures about a half foot in diameter.

It is not often that rabbit tracks are noticed in the heart of the city, but one of Pa Newc's boys observed them on South Mercer street, near Neshannock creek, this morning.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Elizabeth Kildoo Kelly
Mrs. Elizabeth Kildoo Kelly died suddenly Saturday evening of a heart attack at the home of her sister, Mrs. Eva McBride, 25 East North street.

Mrs. Kelly was born in Butler county 74 years ago, the daughter of Hiram and Louise Shaffer Kildoo. Her home had been in Beaver, Pa., for many years, but recently she had been residing with her brother at Mt. Jackson. Her husband, Harry Kelley, died six years ago.

Surviving are three sons, Carl, of Niles, O., Lloyd of Weston, W. Va., and Gailey Leaf, of Glendale, California; five grandchildren, one brother, William J. Kildoo, of Mt. Jackson, Mrs. Eva McBride and Mrs. M. K. Armstrong of New Castle, Mrs. A. J. Reed of Greenville, and Mrs. C. W. Covert of Cameron, W. Va.

The body has been removed to the Jos. S. Rice Co. Chapel where friends may call until 10 a. m. Tuesday. Interment will be made in the cemetery.

Nadena Blanche Burnside

Nadena Blanche Burnside, about two years old, daughter of Earl and Jessie Kerr Burnside, died at her home, New Castle R. D. 7, at 8:30 a. m. today after an illness with pneumonia.

The little girl was born March 2, 1934. She leaves her parents, a sister, Ora May, and two brothers, Glenn and William.

The body has been removed to the Ritchie funeral home. Arrangements for the funeral will be announced later.

Mrs. Williams Funeral

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Hanna Williams of 709 Brooklyn avenue were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Kelley funeral home. Rev. S. R. Maitland was in charge.

Three selections, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me," were touching songs by Mrs. William E. Harris and Mrs. Anna Jamison.

The pallbearers were Thomas Kennedy, Edward Kennedy, Charles Miller and Will Hanna. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Mrs. Philomena O'Donnell

Mrs. Philomena O'Donnell, aged 81 years, of 619 Erie street, Youngstown, O., widow of Matt O'Donnell, died in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Youngstown, on Sunday morning.

Death was the result of a fall last March in which she broke her hip. Mrs. O'Donnell was born and raised in Shenango township, Lawrence county, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schweikert. She leaves two brothers, John Schweikert, of Florida, and Jacob Schweikert, of Youngstown, and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Meyers, of Shenango township, Lawrence county, and Elizabeth, of Youngstown.

She was preceded in death by two brothers, George Schweikert, of New Castle, two weeks ago, and William, of Youngstown, ten months ago.

Funeral mass will be celebrated at 9 a. m. Tuesday in St. Patrick's church, Youngstown, and interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery, New Castle.

trills than the spices of Araby, and no artist could ever paint a finer picture than that of the bearded men on the mills as they turned out the product for which they are famous.

Mills In Fine Shape

As to the preliminary work of getting the mill ready, it is a story in itself. With the weather the worst in 18 years, the men in charge put the mill in readiness and today the mills are working as smoothly as if they had just shut down on Saturday morning.

In the hospital the men in charge there had everything in readiness, just in case of any accident. In the mill restaurant the corps of workers was turning out soup and sandwiches without any indication it was the first day. From the gate to the machine shop everything was functioning smoothly and R. E. Sturdy, who has charge of the plant and the men themselves are to be congratulated.

Pool, Billiards Men Receive Call

Proprietors of places legalized to sell liquor here met at three p. m. today in council chambers, City Hall, where Mayor Charles E. McGrath told them what he expects them to do during his term of office.

Before the meeting convened the mayor declared he had issued a call to the proprietors of all pool and billiard rooms to meet at the same place at three p. m. Wednesday.

the channel to the islands. If it fails war department officials plan to send army bombers to bomb the ice and open navigation.

A special airplane chartered by the Washington Herald also reached the island yesterday. It carried medical supplies to replenish the islands' stores. Several cases of sickness were reported, a pneumonia case being the most serious.

Look To Skies For Food

NANTUCKET, Mass., Feb. 3.—Cut off from the world by six miles of ice surrounding their island, 3,800 residents today looked to the skies for food and fuel.

Their regular supplies exhausted and their emergency food and fuel rapidly diminishing, the islanders awaited arrival of a dozen airplanes carrying supplies from the mainland.

Even coastguard cutters crashing steel piers into the ice were unable to get into the harbor. No ship has touched the island shores since early Saturday.

On Cape Cod mainland Provincetown harbor, for the first time in 20 years, was covered with a glaze of ice, and the land-locked 20-mile ice field threatened to wedge itself in to the harbor from the upper cape shore with a change of wind.

EAGLESON HOME SCENE OF KIDDIES PARTY

Among the enjoyable events that took place over the week-end was the party held Saturday afternoon at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Eagleson, East Washington street. When they entertained 12 kiddies in honor of their daughter, Mary Margaret. The occasion celebrated her sixth birthday anniversary.

A program of appealing games, in charge of Mary Irene Taylor, kept the hours enlivened, causing a riot of mirth. At the close of the numerous contests, pretty prizes were given Maude Reed and Lillian Snook.

The little ones were later invited into the dining room where they were served tempting refreshments. The table was attractively set with two large three-tiered birthday cakes each topped with six burning candles. Other details were developed in hues of red, pink and green. A novelty Valentine and red cellophane packages containing candies, were given as favors. Later, balloons were distributed as an added joy. Mrs. Eagleson was assisted with the menu by Mrs. David W. Nesbitt and Mrs. Albert Wilson.

Little Miss Mary Margaret was the recipient of many lovely gifts in remembrance of the day.

BIRTHDAY PARTY FOR ETHEL HORTON

Mrs. Hugh D. Horton entertained a group of girls and boys Saturday evening at her home on West Park way in honor of her daughter Ethel, whose 14th birthday occurred February 1.

Merriment for the young folks began at 8 o'clock, the hours being delightfully spent with games and music. Lucky ones to win prizes in bingo were Catherine Peters, Mary Peters, Mary Louise Hall, Coval Hemphill, Bob Boles and Junior Jenkins.

Later in the evening the guests were invited to the dining room, where a table was beautifully arranged in pink and white colors. For the centerpiece, a large 16-inch layer cake, all dressed up in candles and pink and white tones, was used. Tasty refreshments were served to 16 by the hostess, Mrs. Horton, assisted by Mrs. James Boies.

Many lovely gifts were received by the honoree to remind her of a most happy occasion.

MR. AND MRS. J. N. SPEED WEDDED HALF CENTURY

One half century of happily married life will be celebrated on Tuesday, February 4, by Mr. and Mrs. George H. Speed, of 506 Sampson street. Plans are made for a family reunion dinner at noon with open house prevailing all day long.

Back in February 4, 1886, a young fellow named George H. Speed and a young lady named Sarah Ann Rowe (she was only 17) went from their homes in Chestnut Ridge, near Grove City, over to the North-western Hotel in Mercer, where Rev. George Rodgers, rector of the Episcopal church, married them.

For a number of years they lived in Mercer county, but about 33 years ago they came to New Castle. Mr. Speed was employed in the engine room of the Carnegie Steel Company for 28 years, and some time ago was retired.

Three children, Mrs. L. W. Miller, John H. Speed and James Nicholas Speed, are living in New Castle, and five grandchildren will join with them at the family dinner Tuesday. Open house will be the order all day long, the hours being from 10 to 12, and from 2 to 6.

COUNCIL CARD PARTY WEDNESDAY EVENING

On Wednesday evening, February 5, in the Cosmo club, the annual charity card party will be held under the auspices of New Castle Section, National Council of Jewish Women. The hour is 8:30. The affair is expected to attract a large crowd, men as well as women being included on the guest list.

Mrs. Ted Marlin heads the committee completing arrangements, and she is being very ably assisted by the following committee: Mrs. H. Cukerbaum, Mrs. P. H. Levine, Mrs. I. Grossman, Mrs. M. Davis, Mrs. G. Stone, Mrs. H. Friedman, Mrs. R. Friedman, Mrs. J. Kulkun.

St. Vitus Auxiliary
Knights of St. Vitus auxiliary members, will hold their regular meeting Tuesday evening, January 4, at 8 o'clock, in their club rooms on Maitland street.

Mrs. Jennie DeGennaro will be honored at this time, with a hankie shower, as a means of celebrating her birthday anniversary. Among other items to be discussed, plans will be rounded out for the supper event to be held February 9, in the rooms, with the auxiliary members in charge.

DINNER PARTY HONORS BIRTHDAY

Mrs. C. W. Crain entertained at a charming party yesterday evening in her home on Crawford avenue, honoring the birthday anniversary of her sister, Mrs. J. E. McGaffie, who resides on Laurel avenue, this city.

The occasion took the form of a dinner affair, places being set for ten guests at the beautifully decorated table which suggested the birthday idea. A large cake graced the center, and appointments were carried out in tones of pink and white. The hostess served a delicious menu, with Verna Mae McGaffie assisting.

Mrs. F. C. Druschel and daughter, Miss Violet Druschel, of Warren, O., were the only out-of-town participants.

The hours were spent leisurely afterwards, and the honored guest was presented with a number of pretty gifts, as mementos of the day, including a bouquet of choice flowers.

DELEGATES ELECTED AT D. A. R. MEETING

An interested group of members of Lawrence chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, assembled Saturday afternoon, in the home of Mrs. C. L. Goodman, Guard apartments, on North Mill street, to mingle business with pleasure.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Fred Donaldson, Mrs. C. E. Zeigler, Miss Marjorie McAnlis, Miss Alma Locke, Mrs. J. A. Gelbach, Mrs. W. P. McComb, Mrs. Harry Mason, Mrs. Charles Cripps, Mrs. W. G. Evans, Mrs. J. R. Carpenter, Miss Nettie Hinkson and Mrs. A. E. Michael.

The regent, Mrs. Harold McCulloch, presided, the customary ritual being followed. She again reminded members of the appeal made by the Crossnore school and asked that a donation as large as possible, be made of discarded clothing, to assuage its distress, as no further allotment of money can be made from the chapter treasury.

Featuring this meeting was the election of delegates to the annual Continental Congress to be held the week of April 19 in Washington, D. C. Mrs. James T. Ray was elected delegate and the ten alternates are Mrs. F. E. Sowersby, Miss Jennie Morgan, Mrs. W. W. Campbell, Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell, Mrs. Benjamin Beisel, Miss Sara Wallace, Miss Gevion Stevenson, Mrs. W. G. Eckles, Mrs. C. S. Royce, Mrs. A. H. Fullerton.

The illustrated lecture, scheduled to be given by J. E. Martsoff, of New Brighton, had to be postponed, owing to his inability to be present. Descriptive accounts of Economy, the little town near Zelienople, where the early Economites settled, given by Mrs. McCulloch and Mrs. C. S. Royce, incited so much interest that a trip to this village in the near future, was planned by the chapter.

During the social period that followed the business session, appetizing refreshments were served from an exquisitely appointed table, the centerpiece for which was accentuated by tall pink tapers. Beverages were poured by Mrs. H. R. McCulloch and Mrs. F. E. Sowersby.

Guests present included Mrs. Harry McKee, Sr., Mrs. John Butz, Mrs. William G. Dunn, Mrs. Harry McKee, Jr., and Mrs. Rufus L. Barckman, of Gladstone, Mich. Mrs. Barckman, who is visiting Mrs. Benjamin Beisel, of Wallace avenue, is a member of Sauk Trail chapter, D. A. R.

Featuring a chapter will hold a patriotic service in the First Presbyterian church later and to commemorate Washington's birthday, a meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. E. J. Blanning on Highland avenue, on the 22nd.

Falcon Club.
The Polish Falcon club members will hold their regular meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in their usual place. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. A. Macejowski, Mrs. K. Klumut, Miss S. Baron and Miss S. Kolodziecki.

HERSHEY AUXILIARY MEETING TONIGHT

For the meeting of Hershey auxiliary this evening, February 3, in the home of Mrs. R. S. Tannehill on Englewood avenue, a program of interest will be presented.

Mrs. C. E. Armstrong will have charge of devotionals, her subject being unusual "A Good Dress-maker". Around the Clock in Africa is the topic on which Mrs. Tannehill will talk, while a theme to be discussed by Mrs. O. P. Brown will be "Putting Things First" (Negro). The executive board session is called for 7:30.

R. F. U. Club Entertains

Mrs. William McCall, of 1114 Croton avenue, proved a pleasing hostess to the R. F. U. members Friday evening in her home. The usual session of card playing held attention, with honors falling to Mrs. T. Sanfillippo, Mrs. William Finefrock and Mrs. William Gallagher. Upon being invited into the dining room at an appropriate hour, the guests were seated at a table prettily appointed with a bouquet of Chrysanthemums forming the centerpiece.

Two new members, Mary Wilkins and Amanda Barber were welcomed into the club at this assembly.

Mrs. William Gallagher, of South Walnut street, will receive the club at her residence, Friday, February 7.

Leap Year 500 Club.

Members of the Leap Year 500 club were entertained Friday, January 31, in the home of Marian Fallen, Blaine street. Two tables of cards occupied the time, prizes going to Georgia Bevan and Bette Frasier. The hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. Fallen, served a dainty repast. Black and white appointments were used.

Miss Margaret Bender was a special guest of the club.

On February 6 the girls will be received by Maxine Bevan.

S. A. S. Club.

Members of the S. A. S. club will meet Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Mae Nicholson, Stewart Place.

A. G. P. Club.

On Wednesday afternoon of this week members of the A. G. P. club will spend their way to the home of Mrs. James McWilliams on Laurel boulevard where they will hold their regular meeting, and spend the afternoon playing 500.

STRAWBERRIES IN FEBRUARY

THERE is cause for mingled emotions in reports covering recent shipments of fresh fruits and vegetables from Southern states to Northern consumers, now unhappily hemmed in by snow and rumors of snow, a low temperature and frigid breezes.

The reports show that Texas alone sent to the North 353 carloads of spinach during the first seven days of the present year. Passing rapidly over this detail to other phases of the report, we find that during that same period there were 83 carloads of tomatoes on the move northward, 746 carloads of grapefruit, and 385 carloads of citrus fruits, also 186 carloads of greens other than spinach, and 950 carloads of nice, tender heads of lettuce.

Most important of all, however, is the announcement that during this same week Florida shipped 26 carloads of luscious strawberries to the north, some of which were enjoyed by citizens in quite modest families at a time when vicious winds from the north were swirling about us and the temperature hovered close to zero.

Time was, of course, when the delights of strawberries in February were reserved for the aristocracy of wealth and when the commoners had to wait until summer, when the products of the nearby gardens came into the markets. In some respects, and quite important, too, the times have changed for the better.

THE EXPERIENCE WAS DISASTROUS

Secretary of the Navy Claude A. Swanson and the navy's science advisory board are not in agreement on the subject of dirigibles.

The secretary has made it clear he does not favor use of lighter-than-air craft for national defense purposes.

The advisory board recommends a continuing program of construction and use of airships, taking the stand that experience with the dirigibles in the United States "has not as yet been sufficient to give grounds for a wholly settled opinion as to the character and extent of their potential usefulness, either commercial or naval."

The question, of course, is a technical one, but most of the experience this country has had with airships has been of a disastrous nature.

As the layman looks at it the only advantage a dirigible has over an airplane is that the former can carry more of a load than the latter. But what the plane loses in this respect is compensated for by its greater speed and mobility.

FITNESS FOR OFFICE

From a small town official in New York state comes an interesting and thought-provoking story of local economy.

The official tells how his community was faced with the necessity of naming a new chief of police. The uniform of the previous incumbent, purchased at a cost of $200, was available. Half a dozen applicants for the job appeared before the municipal governing body. What to do?

Finally the authorities decided to combine prudence with law enforcement. They named as chief of police the man who came nearest to fitting the uniform, thus saving $200 and getting a law enforcement official in a single move.

Of course, subsequent events may prove that one of the misfits would have made a better police chief. In that event, however, the community will be no worse off than it was when the choice had to be made—and the town government at least can lay claim upon a real retrenchment effort.

The obvious moral is, that, in the matter of public personnel, an appointee should fill not only the shoes but the pants of his predecessor.

ILL-ADVISED STATEMENT

Secretary Wallace's reported remark concerning the supreme court's decision refunding $200,000,000 to processors, that "this is probably the greatest legalized steal in American history" is the sort of irresponsible statement that loses friends for the administration and its policies.

The supreme court did not write the AAA. It passed upon the constitutionality of the law when processors all over the country protested that they were being injured and driven out of business by it. The majority of the court agreed that the provisions of the law were beyond the ability of congress to enforce. By a unanimous decision the court then ruled that the $200,000,000 held escrow, having been illegally collected, should be returned.

Mr. Wallace it will be conceded, means well, in trying to help farmers and in protesting against the return of the two hundred million. The trouble is that he hasn't learned that the constitution has set up limits within which congress and the president must work. When he complains that "it is a shame that because of legalistic theories, divorced from economic realities and social justice, the court should have created such an embarrassing situation for farmers, consumers, processors and the government" he is wrongly blaming the court for something for which the government itself is responsible.

When a man begins to talk of social justice it is always well to find out just what he means. The chances are that he has some scheme in mind that he wants to put through regardless of whether it is either practical, lawful, or intrinsically just.

When age scolds youth it should remember that virtue often consists in being fed up.

A faint heart never won a fair lady, but otherwise it has no particular advantage.

The AAA procedure, as to pigs, was an improvement on the Massachusetts proposal that the state finance political candidates.

MRS. HUEY P. LONG, widow of the senator, appointed to her husband's seat in the senate, will be welcome there. Mrs. Long, before her marriage, won a baking contest, and immediately thereafter the married Huey P. Long proposed to and married her. At least 95 of 96 senators realize that knowing how to bake well means intelligence, concentration, attention to detail, willingness to work, all excellent qualities in senator or housewife.

INTENSELY IMPORTANT news from Russia shows that life in a frozen condition can survive, though dormant, through 5,000 years.

In layers of mud that geologists prove to have been frozen hard for 5,000 and 10,000 years eggs of insects long extinct on the earth are found, laid in the mud, 5,000 years ago. Carefully thawed, they hatched out tiny shrimplike creatures that lived and laid eggs that hatched in turn, as their ancestors had done before Tut-Ankh-Amen was born.

THIS PROOF that prolonged cold does not destroy the lower forms of life, would explain the starters of life on this planet after it had cooled off. The germs of life traveling through the ether at more than 400 degrees below zero, could come here on meteors or otherwise, evolution, according to scientists, doing the rest. To know that you descend from what was once a microscopic germ flying through infinite space would be more exciting than going back to William the Conqueror, or the Mayflower Puritans.

EUROPE HAS its usual new "worry," an alleged secret treaty between Germany and Japan. This worries London, anxious to know all that happens in the east, and worries Russia, touching elbows with Japan along the borders of Manchukuo.

Japan and Germany working together in these airplane days might accomplish results.

ETHIOPIA REPORTS another "great victory" on Italian army "annihilated" 8,000 wiped out. The report mentions "hundreds of captives and many guns taken," news that must worry relatives in Italy, for their government says Ethiopian tribesmen, capturing Italian aviators promptly cut off their heads.

THE DOMINICAN BROTHERS headquarters at Turin reported that Friar Reginaldo Giuliani, a chaplain in the Italian army, was wounded, captured, by Ethiopians, "mutilated and beheaded."

Ethiopians, of the Coptic church, told that Catholic are not Christians, which might explain the murder from their point of view.

MEDICINE FOR MISERY

Suppose you're down in the trough of life. Sluggish, rudderless, helpless. Nothing seems right. You can't find anywhere a gleam of light through the black clouds. . . . you're positively and completely fed up. You are sorry for the old because they're lived so long, but envy them because their journey is almost ended. You're sorry for the babies because the road is so long before them; you think that life is a dirty trick to play on an innocent child. You never felt gloomier. You look backward with regret and remorse, forward with disgust and apprehension. . . . You're not fit company for your fellow human beings and you know it. On the other hand, you don't think any of them are fit company for you. . . . You're in one of your black moods.

Incidentally, you're not feeling very well, physically. You got out of bed with a dull headache and it's been hanging on all day.

That's one day. . . . Here's another. The sun is shining; you're happy. Even if it's raining, well, we need rain and the farmers are happy. You have got a lot of problems, but what would a man do if he didn't have problems. Stagnate, that's what he'd do, and stagnation is death in life. You want a lot of things you can't have, never will have. But Robert Browning was right—a man's reach should exceed his grasp else what's a heaven for?

You envy babies. They're so gay, so happy. You envy the old, they've had so much experience. But it's a joyful envy that doesn't hurt you. . . . You wouldn't know what to do with it if it were. . . . Life's a challenge and a man must earn his life. He must meet that challenge, and since a man has only one life to live he'd better do the best he can with this one.

Incidentally, he's feeling fine today. No aches, pains, no dullness in the head. You never felt better in your life.

Think of this the next time you feel mean and low. . . . I think I'll try it myself.

NOT WORTH MENTIONING

Modern children don't appreciate the value of a penny as children did some years ago. So, when little Bobbie received a penny from a neighbor after working for a half-hour shoveling snow from the latter's front walk, he was a bit chagrined at the compensation.

"Well," invited the neighbor, feeling it his duty to help in the courteous training of the child, "what do you say now that you've been given a penny?"

"I have nothing to say, sir," answered the boy. "My father has taught me that if I can't say 'thank you,' then I must not say anything."

Will you please outline the details of the professional (if any) at a home wedding—F. S.

Answer—When I is in readiness for the ceremony, one of the ushers (if there are ushers) should escort the bride's mother to her place in the front line of the guests, at the left, where the other members of the bride's family should join her.

Another usher should take the bridegroom's mother to a corresponding place on the right, where she should be joined by her husband and the rest of the groom's relatives.

The clergyman, the bridegroom and the best man then enter together from a door, preferably, near the end of the room where the ceremony will take place. The bridegroom and the best man should wait at the improvised altar for the bride to come in.

The ushers go upstairs where the bridal party waits to start the procession, which forms in the upstairs hall.

At the first sound of the wedding march the ushers, walking two by two, come down the stairs; next come the bridesmaids (two by two); then the maid-of-honor (alone); last, the bride on the right arm of her father.

Prosperity And Farmers.
Steel-Auto Trade Dependent.
December Shows Biggest Gain.Central Press
Cleveland Bureau
1435 East 12th St.By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3. — It may seem strange to the average person, but the prosperity of this steel-auto region depends on the prosperity of the farmer.

Thus, ever since the U. S. supreme court nullified the chief provisions of the AAA, the steel-auto business has been hesitant. In fact, there has been more of a decline than has been anticipated.

Some of the bigger industrialists, who had hailed the supreme court decision, now have slight frowns.

All that is having an effect on the advance agents for the Republican national convention, which will convene in Cleveland on June 9.

Some powerful antidote to the AAA will have to be found.

The Republicans will have to find some strong affirmative issues between now and June.

Cautious observers believe the Republican peak has been reached too soon.

EMBARRASSED

In fact, the Republicans are embarrassed by recent occurrences.

For example, too many congressmen have been rushing in to vote for the bonus and any inflationary measure that comes along. What good, therefore, to cry for a balanced budget? A Democratic president is the only one trying to stop the onslaught.

Then, there is Comptroller General J. R. McCarl. He is becoming too technical even for the Republicans, though supposedly a Republican watchdog snarling at New Deal expenditures.

McCarl has stopped some public welfare projects that are as popular with Republicans as with Democrats.

In Cleveland, three government housing projects, costing several million dollars, destined to benefit people of low-pay brackets, were thrown into upper brackets when McCarl ruled that rents must detract the government's total investment.

Finally, there is Al Smith. It begins to look as if he should have made his speech on the sidewalks of New York, rather than at a "millionaire's dinner." The national Republicans meeting in Cleveland to arrange for the convention were quick to disclaim any connection with Al, although they agreed with his charges.

The agricultural Republicans do not desire to seem to be tied up with New York at all. If the Republicans are to win, they must capture agricultural states.

CROPS AND WAGES

If farm prices drop will factory wages, also, drop?

The Alexander Hamilton Institute believes so—and predicts a concurrent decline in food prices and factory wages during 1936.

It says that no harm will be done if hours of work, also, are not cut—so that net income will not suffer.

Workers, however, may object.

DECEMBER A PEAK

Volume of trade in the United States reached a new high for the recovery, according to the Alexander Hamilton Institute.

The index, based on 1929 as 100, was 68 in December compared with a depression low of 37.6 in February, 1933, one month before President Roosevelt took office.

The increase over last December was 114.

STILL AT IT

Utility companies still try to undermine municipal utility plants with all the power in their possession—and that still is plenty.

Cleveland is aroused because utilities blocked a refunding bill for the city in the state legislature. That bill would have permitted the city to pay back its municipal electric light plant large sums which it had borrowed, thus permitting enlargement of the plant. The Cleveland Electric Illuminating company, which is a competitor of the municipal plant, is charged with blocking the bill.

PROHIBITION PLEA ENTERED

Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, National W. C. T. U. President, Speaks

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—A plea for the return of prohibition was left here today by Dr. Ida B. Wise Smith, national president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Speaking under the auspices of the Foster W. C. T. U., Dr. Smith declared that repeal had injected into the nation's social life the problem of the drinking mother who will cause the youth of tomorrow to suffer.

She said: "The old saloon is gone, all right, but something infinitely worse has taken its place. The saloon of today makes no distinction between men and women drinkers and as a consequence American women are drinking as they never drank before. The old saloon in its worst days had at least a so-called 'ladies' entrance'. Today they walk in the front door."

Accident On Public Square Cause Of Airing Of Case Before Mayor

Ernest McNicholas was arrested on a charge of suspicion and released on his own recognizance for a hearing at 5 p. m. today before Mayor Charles E. McGrath. The arrest grew out of an accident in which his car is said to have struck Anthony Colechchi, 22, 307 White street at East Washington street and Cochran way. The accident happened at 1:35 a. m. Sunday. Colechchi sustained a scalp wound and abrasions of the face and hands. After treatment he was discharged at the New Castle hospital. McNicholas told police that while he was accused of being a "hit and run" driver he did not know of the accident until occupants of his car said they felt a jar. He stopped his car at Mercer street and returned on foot to where the accident occurred. For the purpose of having all concerned present Mayor McGrath ordered a hearing held at 5 p. m. today.

PITTSBURGH MAN SUICIDE VICTIM

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—A bullet wound in his right temple, believed by authorities to have been self-inflicted, today had ended the life of William Harrison MacAfee, 60, prominent broker.

He had been in ill health for some time, his family said.

HAND INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Paul Keelan, John street, received laceration of a hand when he was struck by a car in West Grant St. yesterday, according to reports. Keelan walked around a truck and was hit by a machine travelling west, according to W. M. Downing, R. D. 5, who took the man to the New Castle hospital for treatment.

STEAL TOOLS USED BY ELECTRICIANS

Police were searching today for tools used by electricians, a Pennsylvania Power company truck having been robbed of instruments worth about $35.00, according to Edward Martin, operator of the truck. The truck was parked in Garfield avenue, when the theft took place.

Mme. Stavisky Greeted In Debut

IT'S AN OLD FRENCH CUSTOM

Making her debut as a showgirl, Mme. Arlette Simon Stavisky, recently acquitted of complicity in the alleged swindles of her husband in France, is greeted in a Parisian manner by admirers in a New York night club. The admirers are Freddy Roberts, left, and Andre Randall, center. Mme. Stavisky, who is known as one of the most beautiful women in France, said she turned to the stage as a means of support for her two children, now in France.

Relief List In State Is 716,116

Figures Show That Number Is Below That Of Last February By 10,000

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—A total of 716,116 cases, representing 716,116 persons, were still on direct relief rolls of the state on January 25, it was revealed in the regular report of the state emergency relief administration today. This was 10,000 below the number of cases a year ago.

By January 25, it was reported, a net cumulative total of 220,296 relief cases had been closed through transfer to the works program. The addition of this figure and the 212,316 still on direct relief rolls, it was pointed out, indicates a combined, unduplicated total of at least 432,582 cases on January 25, 1935, compared with 442,669 cases for the corresponding date in January, 1935. The net decline in SERA direct relief cases during the week ended January 25, as compared with the previous week was 2,048, the result of closing 12,324 cases and opening 10,306.

Name Committees For "Maine Day"

Chairman Muse Appoints Leaders For Spanish War Vets Event

For the Maine Day dinner, which is held each year by the local camp of the Spanish War Veterans in commemoration of the blowing up of the battleship Maine in Havana harbor February 15, 1898, the chairman of the general committee, George W. Muse, has appointed the following committees for the event, which will be held in the Legion Home Monday evening, Feb. 10, at 6:30 o'clock.

Ticket committee: Charles C. Wilson, George Davies and Harry Lach. Table committee: H. T. Otto, P. V. Ryhal and H. J. Scott. Bingo committee: M. J. Howard, Elmer G. Brown and Orville VanHorn.

The comrades of the camp are requested to furnish the prizes for the bingo game.

BURNS HEALED Without A Scar

"My sister was burned last winter when putting coal oil on a deadened fire and the flames burst out into her face. We used nothing but San-Cura Ointment and in almost an incredibly short time her face was perfectly healed without a scar. It is the finest thing for burns that I have ever seen. Have also used it for other things. Just lately an infected toe and shortly it was healed."

Hattie S. Pitts, 18 Iowa Circle, Washington, D. C., Try San-Cura for Bruises, Cuts, Frost Bite, Insect Stings, Bolls, Sores, Sunburn, Piles and Eczema. It relieves the pain and is antiseptic and healing. It's a medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 35c and 60c a jar. For sale by all druggists.

"America has lost her chance of becoming the world's financial center."

Sir Josiah shed no tears as he made the announcement. Told how good management of British currency had returned control of the world's money to London. According to Sir Josiah, American financiers, lacking "a background of knowledge of foreign countries, did their lending foolishly."

Uncle Sam seems also to have lacked a knowledge of European background. He did some foolish lending, 10 thousand million dollars, with nothing for security but a European word of honor.

EXPERTS DISCUSS high flying airplanes. Now pilots skim the earth through clouds, fog, rain, hailstorms, sometimes striking mountains. Higher up, from 20,000 to 30,000 feet, they would fly above clouds and storms at higher speed in a more rarified atmosphere; with supercharging and extra oxygen passengers would breathe as usual. A device regulating atmospheric pressure might indicate the flying height more surely than the present altimeters.

Soon, distance flying in low, dangerous atmospheric zones will be abandoned.

YOUNG AMERICANS will want to know that Delbert Lamb, of Milwaukee, broke the world's record, held by a Finn, skating in Switzerland, 500 meters in 42.6 seconds. Coming from Wisconsin, Lamb may have some of the Scandinavian blood that lends speed and endurance to Finns, Norwegians, Swedes.

DISTILLED SPIRITS increased last year 27,000,000 gallons compared with 1934, an increase not surprising. During prohibition millions of young women were added to drinkers of cocktails and spirits generally. It will take years to undo that.

ENGLAND is practical. King George is dead, and technically his race horses should mourn for nine months like everybody in England. But two of his 3-year-olds are entered for the next Derby and other important races. So the Earl of Derby, for whose family the great race was named, "leaves his late Majesty's race horses," and will race them under his (Lord Derby's) colors. The same noble earl in the same way leased the horses of King Edward VII from George V, when the latter came to the throne.

sent of the sovereign is necessary for all members of the royal family under twenty-five years of age. It does not forbid marriage of princes and princesses of royal blood with commoners, provided the sovereign's consent is obtained.

As for the sovereign himself, he is a free agent. Custom would probably prompt him to elevate a commander to the dignity of a royal highness before she accompanies him to the altar, but even that is not essential. The Duke of York married a lady of nonroyal blood, the daughter of a Scottish Earl, and King George conferred the status of royal highness upon her before she married his second son.

But as far as his British subjects are concerned, King Edward VIII could marry whom he pleased, providing only that she was good and sweet," says Mrs. Grenier.

Hilda Grenier has been in Hollywood several years now, but has never lost touch with the royal family. Queen Mary writes to her regularly, and when Mrs. Grenier, who is a walking encyclopedia, on matters pertaining to royalty, has acted as technical adviser on films. Queen Mary receives a delightful set of "stills" and the picture is shown at Buckingham Palace by royal command.

Land Monopoly Still Grips Us

Apostle Of Single Tax Doctrine Points Out That Land Values Are Deflated

IS BEGINNING TO TURN UPWARD

Central Press
Washington Bureau
1900 S Street
By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The other day I talked with Peter Witt, a retainer of Tom L. Johnson in the latter's day as mayor of Cleveland and still an apostle of the Single Tax doctrine, of which Henry George was the Messiah.
Pete, whom I have known for years, is identified now with Cleveland's urban transportation system, and unquestionably is doing his utmost to develop it in the public interest. The problem is one upon which he has specialized for three or four decades. Folk told me in Cleveland, however, that his present relationship toward it has won him somewhat the reputation of a high-salaried traction official, at the cost of much of his influence as an enlightened economic liberal.
No matter. He is as enlightened an economic liberal as ever.

NEW DEAL DOUBTED

"What about the New Deal?" I asked him.
"Well," said Pete, "basically the New Deal isn't accomplishing anything."
"Nevertheless, I'm for it, in the present situation, and for President Roosevelt, who will be renominated and re-elected.

"At bottom, in this last, as in previous depressions, land monopoly has been responsible for our troubles. Landlordism has exacted such exorbitant and persistent tolls from enterprise that, ultimately, enterprise has languished and nearly died—a depression.
"With enterprise's deflation, due to land's over-inflation, land invariably finally has felt the reaction and become deflated in turn.
"When land has been sufficiently deflated, enterprise has been able to reassert itself, and recovery has followed. But, with enterprise's recovery, land, always in the past, has begun to re-inflate, and presently it re-inflates to a point where its bulge more than offsets enterprise's, and another slump ensues."

BUSINESS GOING UP
"Just now," continued Pete, "land's deflation having arrived at its nadir, enterprise is beginning to re-inflate—recovery.
"Business certainly is improving. "Unemployment is decreasing, and will decrease more rapidly, as business improves farther.
"But enterprise's improvement will pare down, with so-called improvement.
"Then employment will fall also."
UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE
"While this system prevails," continued Pete, "We have got to have unemployment insurance.
"It shouldn't be necessary.
"There should not be and need not be wholesale unemployment.
"But while we adhere to a system which makes it, periodically, inevitable, we must provide for its relief. Only outright cruelty can oppose it."

PALLIATIVES NOW
The Single Tax, nearly half a century ago, was a formidable issue. It doesn't signify much today. Nevertheless, it still has a few supporters—Pete Witt, the People's Lobby in Washington and a handful of congressmen, like Representative Bob Crosser, a survivor of the old Tom L. Johnson regime, from Cleveland.
"It may," admits Pete, "take a couple of generations for the philosophy to take root.
"In the meantime we must rely on palliatives."

Traffic Accidents Increase In Ohio

Records For Past Year Show Two Killed, 21 Injured Daily

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 3.—There were 9,240 accidents or more than one each hour, two persons killed and 21 injured each day, and a death for every dozen accidents on the highways outside of municipalities during 1935.
There were 720 persons killed and 7,517 injured in the 9,240 accidents reported for the past year to the Traffic Division of the Ohio Highway Department.
The economic loss from this traffic toll of 720 deaths and 7,517 people injured was estimated at approximately $35,000,000.

As compared with 1934 there were 863 more accidents reported during 1935 to the Traffic Division of the State Department, a gain of 10.3 per cent.
On state highways alone, outside municipalities, it was computed that vehicle mile traveled increased some 220,002,000, or 4.7 per cent in 1935 as compared with 1934.
Accidents happened about equally during daylight and darkness during the year. Percentage of accidents was 49.1 for daylight compared with 46.6 for darkness, with 4.3 per cent reported as taking place at dusk.
Reports on condition of drivers showed 669 were intoxicated, 294 were asleep, 112 were extremely tired and 56 had physical defects.

Our patrons prefer quality tobacco, judging by the popularity that Camels enjoy here. So we try to keep well stocked with Camels."

Natural digestive action notably increased by smoking Camels

People in every walk of life get "keyed up." The effects on digestion are known to all! In this connection, it is an interesting fact that smoking a Camel during or between meals tends to stimulate and promote digestion. Enjoy Camel's mildness... the feeling of well-being fostered by Camels matches less of costlier tobaccos.

My New York By James Aswell

(Copyright, 1936, by Central Press Assn.)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Small Tales: He's a lad with a degree from Yale, ambition, good personality, experience as an advertising writer. He told me a tale the other night which was full of woe for him but which has a back-flip of hilarity.
For weeks he has been tramping the streets in the job-hunt. He has answered ads. He has tackled employment agencies. He has button-holed friends to aid in the campaign. At last he saw a help-wanted ad which revealed an employer's desire for just the sort of background and experience he possessed.
The ad had been placed by an employment agency of good standing and considerable size. My bright-eyed young friend got through the lineup outside the door and a battery of secretaries into the presence of the head of the agency.
Everything he said seemed to fit in with the requirements for the job. He was sure he was on the way to landing. Then the employment agency chief took a book out of a drawer, asked the youngster's birth date, year, month, day, etc. He then proceeded to plot his horoscope according to the best astrological rules. At last he shook his head.
"You won't do. I'm sorry, but ac-ording to the stars you wouldn't fit this job at all. I never fail to check the horoscopes of applicants and never have I been wrong yet."

"The worst of it was," the lad told me, "that I gave the wrong dates—because I had to jack my age up a year to comply with the minimum mentioned in the ad!"
He's still job-hunting.

He is an executive in a huge organization. We have a nodding acquaintance because for years we have been finding ourselves at the theater the same nights and have had a puff and a chat together.
Not long ago, upon my second visit to "Ethan Frome," I stood with him at first intermission outside the theater in the frosty night. The foyer and vestibules were smoky and stuffy. Now, at intermission time the beggars and panhandlers swarm down upon theatrical audiences and you cannot poke your head outdoors without being stemmed.
This night the usual battalion was industriously begging from the few hardy enough to brave the chill outdoors. A buxom old lady, red-nosed and be-shawled, tackled my dignified friend and he shelled out a coin.
"Bless you!" she cried. "You are the only person here who has come across tonight. I honor you and bow to you."
She bowed stiffly and it might have been a wee bit tipsily.
Next intermission my acquaintance and I again ventured into the fresh air. The same lady rushed him.
"Here you are. My hero! Now surely you are not going to spoil your record by not contributing something this time, too. Come, I want to mark you down on my list of regulars!"
She held out her hand confidently—but the gentleman retreated abashed indoors.

The mysterious Anna Sten, now picture making in England after her million-dollar unpleasantness over here, told a friend that she was very happy because:
"For the first time in years I am playing in a picture in which I don't have to die. I'm so tired dying."
As who wouldn't be.

AROUND CITY HALL

One of the ancient customs of council meetings has been eliminated. It is the reading of bills during councilmanic sessions. This was decided upon recently. It appears that after the new officials assumed office the question of reading each bill separately was discussed. When the session following the discussion arrived, Streets Director B. F. Butler said there had been a discussion, then added that, inasmuch as each councilman knew of the orders placed and that the supplies had been received, it would be all right to approve the bills in bulk; in other words, after the city clerk would announce that "a number of bills have been presented and payment for which has been asked."

City policemen now are serving whatever legal papers are authorized to be served by the legal department. Heretofore they were served by the late Henry Dysart. According to Mayor Charles E. McGrath, the position made vacant by Inspector Dysart's death will not be filled immediately. The cost of operating the legal department has increased steadily, not due to Solicitor R. M. White, but to the demands placed on the duties required by the office. Inasmuch as the papers to be served are not numerous these days, it is anticipated that the mayor will employ police until such time as a necessity arises for a successor to be named to Dysart's position, which paid a rate of pay similar to that given policemen.

James L. Fink that he would establish a record showing specially how much of the city's money is expended on city jobs for which the WPA provides labor is a good move. Under the new budget system every dollar spent for any purpose is shown, according to Controller Earl Wimer. If Fink's statement is carried out it will be easy to find out the costs of materials used on each specific job. The money for these projects has been appropriated and charged against delinquent taxes, which is taxpayers' money the same as the money raised by tax millage.

Henry Weschler Dies In Chicago

Mrs. W. T. Weschler of the Hoyt apartments has received word from her husband, W. T. Weschler, who was called to Chicago, Ill., recently due to the serious illness of his brother, to the effect that the brother, Henry Weschler, of 240 West Garfield avenue, Chicago, passed away Saturday evening at his home after an illness of some time.
Mr. Weschler formerly resided in Pittsburgh, Pa., where he was affiliated closely with the Pennsylvania railroad. Besides being survived by his wife, Thresa Weschler, one brother, W. T. Weschler, of New Castle, and one sister, Margaret Weschler, of Erie, Pa., also survive.

Funeral services will be held from his home on Tuesday and interment will be made at a cemetery in Chicago.

A Baby in Your Home
SCIENTISTS now state that "complete unity in life depends upon sex harmony" and that the lack of it is the one greatest cause for unhappy marriages. Also that every woman "has the capacity for sex expression" but too often she is underdeveloped or suffering from general female disorders, to learn about this splendid treatment and how she may use it in the privacy of her own home.

During an experience of more than 35 years specializing in the treatment of diseases peculiar to women, I have developed a simple home treatment which has brought new hope, health and happiness to many thousands. I have seen hundreds upon hundreds who suffered from delayed, painful irregular periods, lack of feeling and sterility due to functional weakness, become strong, healthy vigorous women enjoying the desires and activities of a normal life. Many who had been childless for years became proud and happy mothers. I have written me the most glowing letters of gratitude and now I want every woman who is run-down or suffering from general female disorders, to learn about this splendid treatment and how she may use it in the privacy of her own home.

Get This Knowledge FREE
I have written two booklets in both of which I intimately discuss many important subjects relating to the female sex, that are vitally interesting to every woman. They are replete with valuable facts learned in my busy experience during which time I have seen and successfully treated every condition of female disorder known to medicine. They tell how you too may combine fully and obtain again every desire and activities of a normal, healthy, fully developed, vigorous woman. I will gladly mail both booklets free, in plain wrapper to all who write me. If they help you, tell your friends. Just send name and address. Do this today as it may change your whole life.

President Will Soon Formally Announce Re-election Candidacy

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—It has been an open secret for some time that President Roosevelt was a candidate for re-election but the time was rapidly approaching today when he will have to make a formal declaration to that effect over his own signature. State primary laws in Ohio, California and South Dakota in particular make this gesture imperative.

Assurances were forthcoming at the Democratic headquarters here that all necessary papers would be filed to establish Mr. Roosevelt as an avowed candidate to succeed himself. Hostile gestures by Al Smith, Governor Talmadge and other critics within the party have determined the Roosevelt high command to step in and contest for all delegates to the national convention this June in Philadelphia.

It was anticipated that the president would declare himself first in California, although he has until March 25 in that state as against March 13 for Ohio.

Nice Row Brewing
Out in California a family row is steaming up nicely between the forces led by Senator William G. McAdoo and those behind Democratic state chairman Culbert Olson.

—the latter Upton Sinclair's campaign manager on the recent EPIC ticket. The state presidential primary falls on May 5 this year. State law requires that if more than one slate of delegates is entered in one-half of any candidates, that aspirant must indicate which he desires to represent him before March 25. McAdoo is fighting for a Roosevelt delegation without strings. Olson wants at least part of the delegation further pledged to insertion of a production-for-use plank (one of the highlights of the defeated endowment plan) in the Democratic platform.

Senator McAdoo won the first round in the recent California State convention. He is now urging the president to forestall any embarrassment by handpicking 44 delegates before it becomes a question of choosing between two slates. McAdoo is urging fast action on the part of the white house.

Ohio's presidential preference primary also falls on May 5—but a state law requires that any candidate must so declare himself 60 days in advance, which gives Mr. Roosevelt until March 13 to file. South Dakota, likewise with a May 5 primary, has a law making it desirable for a candidate to announce himself definitely 30 days ahead.

Youngstown, were recent visitors of his folks, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. A. McBride.

Miss Marion Carlisle, who attended school at Slippery Rock college, spent several days the last of the week at her home.

Mrs. Harry Kretzel will be hostess to the Ladies Aid of Mahoning, Thursday, February 6. A cordial invitation is given to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird and family and T. W. Baird visited Sunday with the latter's daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed, of Mt. Jackson. Mr. Baird remained for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Baird entertained relatives Thursday evening at 6 o'clock dinner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Martin, New Castle; Mr. and Mrs. Elton Pfeule, Bessener; Mr. and Mrs. Goldner and Mr. and Mrs. Ariel Henley and family, of Struthers.

Mary Eleanor Kretzer called Saturday on the Misses Helen and Isabelle Erskine of Lowellville, who were removed from the Youngstown hospital to their homes and will be confined to their beds several weeks as the result of the serious automobile accident they were in during the holidays.

Women Students In Seven Schools At State College

All Undergraduate Schools Of State College Have Women Enrolled

(Special To The News)
STATE COLLEGE, Feb. 3.—While nearly half of the 908 undergraduate women students of the Pennsylvania State College are enrolled in the School of Education, which includes home economics, women students are to be found in all seven undergraduate schools of the college, Registrar William S. Hoffman reported today.

Twenty-four of them are enrolled in the School of Agriculture where they are studying agricultural biochemistry, agricultural education, botany, dairy husbandry, horticulture, landscape architecture, zoology and entomology, and are taking the two-year course in general agriculture.

Thirty-one of the girls are enrolled in the School of Chemistry and Physics in the curricula of chemistry, chemical engineering, and pre-medical studies. The School of Engineering has four co-eds, all of them studying architecture. The School of Education has 442 women students scattered through four curricula of education, home economics, nature education and music education. The School of the Liberal Arts has 385 women students enrolled in arts and letters, commerce and finance, journalism, and in the lower division which comprises the first two years.

In the School of Mineral Industries one girl is enrolled as a student of metallurgy. Twenty-one girls are enrolled in the School of Physical Education and Athletics in the physical education curriculum.

See Huge Crowd For Lincoln Day

Ticket Demand For G. O. P. Event Here On February 12 Is Very Heavy

MUST GET TICKETS EARLY TO ATTEND

Judging from the way the tickets are going for the Lincoln Day celebration in the Cathedral on February 12, there are bound to be a lot of people in Lawrence county disappointed unless they make haste. Chairman James A. Rugh of the ticket committee stated today that the demand was brisk and that he expected to dispose of Lawrence county's allotment at least a week before the celebration.

It is necessary to have a ticket to get into the building, as the capacity of the building will be taxed to hold the crowd. Coming from 18 western and central Pennsylvania counties, it is predicted that the 5,000 tickets available will be disposed of. Mercer and Venango counties have already disposed of their allotments and are clamoring for more. Congressman Charles F. Risk of Rhode Island and State Senator Theodore Lane Bean of Montgomery county will be the chief speakers of the day, with addresses also by Mrs. George W. Hemphill of Beaver Falls, state president of the Republican Council of Women. Short addresses will be made by representatives of the various congressional districts represented.

Under the direction of Attorney Walter S. Reynolds the pageant "The Making of the Constitution" will be presented, and there will be other features on the program of entertainment.

At 11:45 a. m. the Lincoln club of the Beaver valley will arrive by train and will parade in their uniforms to the Cathedral. The Purple Heart band will accompany them.

Bills Presented To Authorize Claim Payments

(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3.—Representative Charles R. Eckert of Beaver has introduced two bills asking Congress to authorize payment of claims against the Federal Government by Mrs. Marjorie M. Mills, of New Castle, and Willard Webster of Beaver Falls.

Mrs. Mills, who lives at 510 Centennial street, is seeking to recover payment for overtime work by her father, the late A. F. McGaffie. At the time he performed the overtime for the government, payment for such work was prohibited except through special legislation. Mr. Eckert is now seeking to have the necessary legislation enacted.

The claim of Willard Webster, whose address is 616 Thirty-fourth street, Beaver Falls, grows out of injuries sustained when a mail truck ran him down in November 1933. Mr. Webster, now 26 years old, sustained brain concussion and other serious hurts. The Eckert bill asks $5000 damages for Mr. Webster.

Wyman To Take Examination For Highway Patrol

Henry Wyman of 702 Chestnut street left yesterday morning for Harrisburg, Pa., for the purpose of taking an examination to gain entrance to the Pennsylvania state highway patrol.

His examination was scheduled to take place this morning in Harrisburg and if he was successful in passing everything required he will not return to New Castle for quite some time, but will begin training for patrol service.

Wyman is well known in New Castle, he being the vice president of the Uparatara fraternity of the Y. M. C. A.

The Lawrence Savings and Trust Company, guardian for Fortunata Sbfrenna, a feeble minded person, has been authorized to sell seven shares of United States Steel Corporation stock.

County Controller Frank W. Hill has submitted to the county commissioners a tentative copy of a budget for 1936. The budget is based on receipts and expenditures for last year, and estimates are made for the present year. The commissioners now have the budget under consideration. In most cases the estimates for 1936 are higher than the actual expenditures in 1935, but the commissioners will no doubt make reductions, wherever possible.

L. W. Houk turned in his last report as county sealer of weights and measures on Saturday. During the month he inspected platform scales of which five needed adjustment; forty six counter scales and ten adjustments; seven beam scales, three adjustments; 130 counting scales, thirty nine adjustments and three incorrect, two coal scales and one adjustment, all of it is 61 cents per day. The rate at the eastern penitentiary is 65 cents per day.

Some idea of where the taxpayers money goes can be had by the bill from the Western penitentiary for the month of December. It amounts to $965.79. Some of the prisoners are serving long terms. An instance of how the county gets in for costs is that of a colored man who was sent to the Western penitentiary for passing worthless checks in 1933. He became insane while in that institution and had to be transported at the cost of the county to Fairview penitentiary for the criminally insane. In 1916 he was brought to Dikmont insane asylum, where he is still a patient.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has sent out summons for jurors who have been called to serve at the March term of criminal court. The notices are mailed to one grand jury and two petit juries. There will be one murder case to try at the March term, the first case of this kind that the county has had for some time.

Local motorists are now receiving from the state highway department blanks on which to make applications for driver's licenses. There is some kicking because the fee is two dollars, many believing that a drivers' license should not cost over a dollar. In this connection it is pertinent to inquire, How do motor traffic fatalities in states that do not have drivers' license laws, compare with those states having such laws? Reports show that on the basis of deaths per unit of gasoline consumption, deaths in a group of states having no drivers' license laws have increased forty per cent since 1926, while in a group of states having such laws a decrease of twenty per cent was shown for the same period.

At the direction of the county commissioners the welfare department will make a checkup of all the cases on relief.

MINER IS KILLED IN BEAVER COUNTY

NEW BRIGHTON, Pa., Feb. 3.—Struck by a small piece of slate that fell from the roof of a coal mine of David Johnston in the Bennett Run district, Clinton Cunningham, 19, a miner of First avenue, suffered a fractured skull. He died before he could be removed to the hospital.

PREDICT SPECIAL SESSION EARLY IN MAY

See Likely Call For Legislature

Relief Demands May Result In Call For State Legislature

SEVERE WEATHER INCREASES NEEDS

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Feb. 3.—Despite the state supreme court's action in upholding the constitutionality of the corporate net income tax, other recent decisions of the high tribunal and day-to-day fiscal and relief developments practically make certain the calling of a special session of the legislature early in May, observers were freely predicting here today.

Pointing out revenues from the tax on net incomes of corporations would amount to $26,000,000 during the current biennium, Attorney General Charles Margiotti said the court's decision "will have an important bearing on whether or not a special session of the legislature will be necessary this year."

Need for the additional funds to finance relief will be a leading factor in the calling of the special session, but many other factors have arisen during recent weeks.

ALDERMAN BIONDI HEARS TWO CASES

During the past few days, Alderman B. J. Biondi, eighth ward, heard two cases in his office, 112 East Long avenue.

In the case of Workmen's Compensation versus John Fricanish, charge of not carrying insurance, the defendant waived the hearing and the case was held for the March term of court.

Ed Miller was discharged upon payment of costs. He was charged with assault and battery, by Mildred Blue.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and young. Keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure. Sluggish bowels cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will help save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of colomel to men and women seeking health and relief from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take one or two Olive Tablets at bedtime. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.

Temperatures In January Are Far Below Normal Mark

Deficiency Of 4.6 Degrees Per Day Are Shown By Monthly Summary Of Weather

January's temperatures were far below the normal figure, the monthly summary of Weather Observer B. F. Johnson reveal. The daily average deficiency was 4.6 degrees. While the temperature was also below the normal mark there was an increase in the snowfall for the month.

The mean maximum was 31.7 degrees, the mean minimum, 14.4 degrees, and the average daily temperature was 23 degrees. The normal average temperature for the month is 27.6 degrees. The highest temperature was 48 degrees on the 13th and the lowest was 13 below zero on the 26th.

The precipitation for the month was 2.37 inches, while the normal for January is 3.02 inches, a deficiency of .65 inches being shown. The greatest amount in 24 hours was .64 inches on the 9th. The total snowfall for the month was 13.1 inches. Days with .01 inches or more precipitation were 17. There was one clear day, 16 were partly cloudy and 14 were cloudy.

In 1935 the precipitation was 2.63 inches, a deficiency of .39 inches below the normal. The average temperature was 2 degrees over the normal, while the snowfall for the month only amounted to 2.7 inches.

Legion Members To File For Bonus On Tuesday Evening

Red Cross Chapter Will Take Care Of Gaston Post Members Tomorrow Evening

Tuesday evening has been set aside for the members of Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion, when they can file their application for their adjusted compensation at the offices of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross.

The office of the chapter will be kept open for members of the post and all who apply will be taken care of.

The number of applications has reached 400, Secretary Orville Potter of the Lawrence county chapter states, and the biggest part of the rush is now believed to be over. Although a large number presented themselves Saturday, none had to wait more than a few minutes, as the work of filling out the forms is not difficult if the veterans have all the information needed at their finger tips.

Numbers Writers Run For Cover

Extensive Raids By Police And Detectives Are Made In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—"Numbers" writers and their minions ran for cover today in the wake of extensive raids by city police supported by magistrates levying stiff fines on those arrested.

Accounts books seized by 15 detectives who raided an uptown headquarters for "numbers" writers disclosed the syndicate made a net profit of $18,741.41 in the preceding 62 days from the pennies, nickels and dimes it gathered in daily.

A new wrinkle in "numbers" raids was tried out by police when they had their official photographer, Patsy Verzella, snap a picture of the "numbers" men at work at their adding machines and the large wheels on which the daily numeral was selected. Several other pictures of the place in operation were also taken.

It was learned the new practice of magistrates to levy $100 fines on the "numbers" writers and their aids was driving the racketeers from the city.

"I might as well quit business if I have to pay $100 fines," said one large operator before departing until "things blow over."

Council Acts To Allow Treasurer To Be Qualified

Bank To Be Named Deputy Tax Collector During Dispute On Bond

Council met in the city building today and adopted an ordinance which will enable C. C. McKibben to qualify under the law as city treasurer as he is given the right under the measure to name a local bank as deputy tax collector. The ordinance was decided upon when council refused to pay what council considered an exorbitant premium on a bond of $30,000, submitted by the city treasurer for acting as tax collector.

After the ordinance was adopted it was stated that McKibben has brought mandamus proceedings in Lawrence county court against council in which he requests that council be compelled to approve the bond. They are to be represented by Solicitor Robert M. White at the hearing Wednesday.

Under the law, as interpreted by Solicitor Robert M. White, the city treasurer shall submit a bond which must meet with councilmanic approval. Council has refused to approve the bond, not because of McKibben, but on account of its alleged high cost.

White also has told council that under the law McKibben must qualify within 30 days from the date he took office else he would be ineligible to be city treasurer, hence council move to protect his position by passing the ordinance today as the 30 days expire February 5.

Councilmen Pay Tribute To Late Matthew Gunton

Council met in the municipal building today and after transacting business that could not be delayed, adopted a resolution offered by Councilman Joseph D. Alexander, by which the body adjourned until Friday out of respect to the late Matthew Gunton, a member of the city planning and zoning board.

The resolution said that the city council desired to express its loss and acknowledge its indebtedness and gratitude to Mr. Gunton and ordered that a copy of the resolution be sent to his family, after which the body adjourned.

Gunton served as president of the state planners and donated a large tract of ground, known as Gunton park, North hill to city. He was a tireless worker in civic movements and his loss will be felt in city circles.

Answer Alarms Over Week End

Several alarms were answered by firemen over the weekend, Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports, none of the fires being of a serious nature.

Saturday afternoon, firemen were called to the home of Mrs. Mary Regan, of 111½ South Jefferson street, by a defective chimney.

At 1:30 Sunday afternoon, firemen were called to the home of Joe Majada, 1605 Moravia street, by a small fire. The damage amounted to around $5.

At 3:40, they were summoned to the home of Mrs. Anne McClimans, of 722 Oak street, by a smoke scare. There was no fire.

A false alarm was sounded from box 57, at Moravia and Miller avenue, Sunday morning at 3 o’clock.

Man Found Almost Frozen To Death

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard was called to West Pittsburg at 2 o’clock this morning by the report that a man had been found lying on the road and almost frozen to death. When he arrived at West Pittsburg he found that Constable Walter Bannan and others had carried the man into a house. He proved to be Adolph Hoffman, a resident of the community. According to the sheriff, there was evidence that his condition had been caused by liquor. He was brought to the county jail. Had he not been found it is likely that he would have frozen to death.

of brown gravy were heaped upon the plates in reckless abandon, until there was nothing left of the “corpus delicti” but greasy spots on the pans.

In the natural course of human events it wasn’t very long until the gobblers were all gobbled up. Gilbert Long’s string band played “Round and Round,” while white coated waiters dropped out coffee and cigars. “They pressed another valve down” and a flow of soul began to come out at the head table.

President W. W. Stevenson set the rotary in motion in a happy vein. Being also president of the Shenango Valley Humane Society, he naturally felt sorry for the turkeys, but his heart was gladdened by the looks of satisfaction on the faces of his customers.

Toastmaster Presented

President Stevenson presented Attorney Richard P. Dana as the toastmaster of the evening. Mr. Dana presided with his usual dignity and grace. Dana stated the flow of soul by calling upon Sam Lewis to sing. Sam did so well that he was compelled to respond to an encore.

President Judge John H. McCann of Cambria county, the principal speaker of the evening was then introduced. Judge McCann is a big man, square shoulders, and a face that beams happiness and good cheer. He set the audience at ease at once by announcing that he was not going to talk about the constitution, or even talk shop. He observed, however, that constitution can take care of itself with the aid of the supreme court.

Stresses Friendship

Judge McCann held that there are other things in life beside laws and constitutions, and the greatest of these is broad tolerance of the opinions of other, neighborliness and that trust and confidence which makes for enduring friendships.

The older we grow, said he, the firmer our friendships. In the earlier years of our lives we may have our differences about our parties, our churches, our public policies, but as we grow older these differences are gradually melted away by contact with the world. We become more tolerant of the views of others and we come to realize that the greatest things in life are honesty, fair dealing, cheerfulness, justice, and above all friendships.

We do not care for the men with a face that reminds us of the undertaker, the cooling face, nor the face where the chin and the nose almost meet. What attracts us is the happy, cheerful face. “So I say that the getting together in brotherly love is the only thing worth while.”

Accidental Greatness

Greatness is largely a matter of accident, time and place and circumstances. There are many people in this country who could fill high places, but never get the opportunity. Jefferson, Jackson and Abraham Lincoln were looked upon as leaders of this nation. They had the opportunity and measured up to their responsibilities.

Some of the greatest men in this nation have been lawyers. They have figured largely in the framing of our laws and in the moulding of public thought. During the past six years many of them have endured much, even death, for more than those who have used the pick and shovel. Our morale has been shaken, but we have stood the test and are now facing the future with more hope. There is no danger to America, no matter what man leads us. America will not overcome by forces from within.

Land Of Justice

“There is no place in the world where justice in our courts is more honestly administered. Out forecasts came here because of the ‘justice’ of the old world. We often hear that justice here is too slow, as compared with English courts. We possibly take more time but in the end it is honestly administered. I would measure the supreme court of Pennsylvania and New York with any judicial bodies in the world. We take time to study our cases, and they are generally conducted with strict propriety, but I am sorry to say that we cannot say this of the Hauptmann case in New Jersey.” The speaker then alluded to the famous Maybrick trial in England, which he said was not comparable with any real case in Pennsylvania courts.

The speaker called attention to the training which young attorneys now get in schools showing how they come out well equipped for their profession. He told how they should be encouraged, and closed his remarks with an earnest plea of good-fellowship and friendships among members of the bar and all mankind.

Butler Judge Speaks

Judge John Wilson of Butler county was the next speaker. Mr. Wilson is only about half as big as Judge McCann when it comes to physical size, but the same won’t hold true when it comes to gray matter. He is a forceful speaker and when it comes to “wise cracks” he would appear to be a regular descendant of Mark Twain. His picturesque reminiscences of golf games with local lawyers, and experience at the annual meet in Cambridge Springs, set the audience in an uproar.

In the course of his remarks he paid a high tribute to the learning, integrity and fairness of former Judge R. L. Hildebrand. He was sorry to learn of his career as judge coming to an end.

He recalled that 41 years ago Robert E. Pattison, then Democratic governor of Pennsylvania had appointed J. Norman Martin of this city, as judge to take the place of Judge McMichael, who had died. The appointee at that time held court in both Butler and Lawrence counties, and the speaker related a number of interesting anecdotes of Judge Martin’s career.

The speaker also referred to Judge James A. McLaughry’s career of 21 years on the bench in Mercer county. He said it was not too long for a good judge.

Beaver County Judge

Judge Henry Wilson of Beaver county, the next speaker, was somewhat more sedate in his remarks than his namesake from Butler county. He is a larger and older man, and has had a world of experience in the courts of Beaver county. He plays golf some and joked about his abilities. He emphasized the personal relationships that should exist among members of the bar, and counseled, honesty, fairness and friendships.

Judge George H. Rowley, who has recently ascended the bench in Mercer county, is also somewhat of a golf player, and joked about the game. He also played a high tribute to Judge James A. McLaughry who had preceded him for 21 years.

Judge W. Walter Braham, who has recently ascended the Lawrence county bench, paid a tribute to retiring Judge R. Lawrence Hildebrand, and asked for the co-operation of every member of the bar in the work which lies before him.

Former Judge J. Norman Martin recalled many incidents of his career, both as judge and as a member of the Lawrence county bar.

Taken Presented

At this juncture Attorney Robert L. Wallace presented former Judge R. L. Hildebrand, with a beautiful silver loving cup, as a token of appreciation from the members of the Lawrence County Bar Association. In doing so he paid a high tribute to the honesty, fairness, and kindness of Judge Hildebrand while on the bench. He spoke of Judge Hildebrand’s record in the appellate courts, which is second to none in the state. “He has been a credit to himself, the profession, and the county,” declared Attorney Wallace. He has been a good judge and a good friend. We are glad to present this token of our appreciation.

Judge Hildebrand, visibly affected by the many kind things that had been said about him, made a feeling response. He spoke of the pleasant relations that had existed between himself and members of the bar, and also with Judge James A. Chambers. He said that he needed no material evidence of the friendships of those with whom he had been associated, but appreciated greatly their beautiful gift. In referring to the friendship between himself and Judge Chambers, while they were associated, he bespoke for Judge W. Walter Braham, the same kind and courteous fellowship.

Judge McLaughry Speaks

Former Judge James A. McLaughry of Mercer county said that while he was on the bench former Judge Hildebrand had frequently helped out with cases. He said that members of the Mercer county bar were always glad to see Judge Hildebrand, as they knew that their cases would be fairly tried.

Judge McLaughry said the first time that he was ever in a law office was in that of the late S. W. Dana, father of Richard Dana, the toastmaster of the evening. The first court house he was ever in was the Lawrence county court house. Judge McLaughry lived at New Wilmington and is a native of Lawrence county.

Visitors Present

Among the visitors present at the banquet in addition to the judges named were the following attorneys: T. A. Sampson, Mercer; Archie Voorhes, Greenville; Samuel Neese, Grove City; M. L. McBride, Grove City; J. K. Roe, John H. Solomon, and Samuel B. Wilson, Beaver; P. Clair Ross, J. Campbell Brandon, Luther C. Braham, and Lee C. McCandless, Butler. The latter is district attorney. W. J. Myers, Grove City; Robert Emmet McCreary, district attorney of Beaver county.

Banquet Committees

Committees which helped to make the affair a success were as follows: banquet committee, Richard Dana, Hugh D. Graham, Charles V. Ross, Randall Luke and James Rhodes.

Ticket Committee: Frank Moretti, Sherman Levine and Kenneth McLure.

Chief carvers: Ralph Cooper, James Chambers, Leroy Donaldson, Errol Fullerton, Alvah Shumaker, Sherman Levine, Frank, Moretti Charles Ross and Hugh Graham.

President W. W. Stevenson of the bar association received many congratulations on the success of the banquet.

Marakas May Be Appointed As Tax Collector

It was reported in city hall circles today that Paul Marakas, former businessman, who for some years has worked in the collection of personal taxes, would be named to collect delinquent property taxes on the installment plan for the city. Mr. Marakas will receive five percent of the money he collects. He will call on the various property owners and solicit as much of their delinquent taxes as the property owners are in a position to pay.

Drug Salesman Held At Pittsburgh

Arrested At Ellwood City, On Charge Of Forging Name Of Doctor Brown

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Federal operatives today had under arrest a drug salesman whom they charged with obtaining large quantities of dope in Western Pennsylvania by forging physician's prescriptions.

The suspect, arrested at Ellwood City, was identified as Ernest L. Seelye, 28, of Wichita, Kansas. Federal men said he admitted operating in Ellwood City, Altoona, Latrobe, Greensburg, Leechburg, Jeannette, and Johnstown.

The government men said his plan was to visit physicians' offices on the pretext of selling drugs and while their attention was diverted he would steal prescription blanks which he later forged.

The suspect's downfall came at Ellwood City because he fell victim to the idiosyncrasy of a physician who signed his last name first and then followed with the initials.

The physician, Dr. J. O. Brown, signed narcotic prescriptions "Brown J. O." according to the government men. When the suspect took the prescription, signed "J. O. Brown," to an Ellwood City drug store, the clerk became suspicious and called police.

Police said the suspect lived at a Greensburg hotel. He was charged with obtaining five grains of morphine in Ellwood City and remanded to jail in default of $1,000 bond.

Haynes-Glover Wedding Saturday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—A wedding of interest to many in this vicinity occurred on Saturday when Miss Roberta Haynes of Ellport and Owen Glover of Ellwood were united in marriage. The marriage ceremony was performed at Wellsburg, W. Va.

Dunn Is Assistant Manager At Shelby

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 3.—Mike Dunn, of this city, today was named as assistant to Jack McPhee as director of the Shelby Social Club. With the wide scope of activities undertaken by the club, an assistant was necessary to help supervise the work. Mr. McPhee stated today.

Dunn is one of the city's foremost athletes. He graduated from the local high school in 1931. He had captained the 1930 track team of Ellwood High which won the state championship. Dunn was the state champion in the 220 low hurdles that year. He also starred in basketball under Peck Lee. The local youth continued his fine work at Geneva college from which he graduated last summer.

Besides the bowling and basketball leagues, swimming team and classes are held for men, women and children. The club is once again the center of activity of the community.

Round Trip U. S. And Honolulu In 24 Hours Planned

Colonel Arthur Goebel Would Attempt Record Breaking Flight

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3.—To Honolulu and back from one dawn to the next!

That is the prospect of Col. Arthur Goebel, winner of the ill-fated Dole derby from Oakland to Honolulu in 1927, and famed sky-writer, who had arrived here today from Honolulu.

Col. Goebel said he believes the round-trip from the mainland, in favorable weather, can be made from dawn to dawn.

"I'd like to attempt the flight again," he said, "this time striving for speed."

Three Killed By Blast On Vessel

Five Survivors Of Blast On Pacific Ocean At Returning To Port

(International News Service) SAN DIEGO, Cal., Feb. 3.—Victims of a terrific explosion at sea which is thought to have claimed the lives of three men, the five surviving members of the crew of the fishing boat Olympic were en route here today aboard the tuna clipper Romancia.

According to radio reports here, the blast blew the boat to splinters, throwing the five survivors clear. As the boat sank they were picked up by another craft.

Three men are missing, believed to have gone down with the shattered boat. The explosion occurred off Cape San Lucas, 900 miles south of here.

Report Eight Dead In Barracks Fire

(International News Service) LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—Eight men are known to be dead, more are feared to have perished, and a score were injured when a roaring fire, whipped by a high wind, early this morning destroyed a dormitory in which 90 men were sleeping in the construction camp at Parker dam on the Colorado river, according to word received here.

Through the smoldering ruins of the dormitory, mess hall and commissary, which also were destroyed, fellow workers searched for more dead today.

None of the bodies have been identified.

Still, it's a pretty law-abiding country that keeps on behaving when it doesn't know which law is lawful.

Titans Defeat Akron Quintet, By Score 41-28

Wes Bennett Gets 13 Points. Hunneke And Willits Star For Titans

GAME IS CLOSE FOR FIRST HALF

(Special To The News) AKRON, O., Feb. 3.—After a dragging first half which ended 15-14 in favor of the Titans, Westminister came to life in the final 20 minutes of play and romped away with a 41-28 victory over the Akron Goodyears Saturday night for the second time this season.

"Wes" Bennett, playing on his home town floor, tried hard to give the Akron fans his customary "15 points per game" but fell two short. The crowd, however, forgot to root for their home team, the Akron Goodyears, and were content to cheer Bennett's every move and score.

Hunneke in Shape "Swede" Hunneke played one of the best games of his final season for Coach Lawther's team, with airtight defense work, and seven points scored on three field goals and one throw. Krivosh, Hunneke's runningmate, played an excellent game, but left the floor early in the second half on personal shots.

The Akron guards smothered Williams and Bennett every time they got within scoring distance with the ball, but both came through with well timed and almost sensational shots.

Titans Take Lead The game opened with Bennett's one-handed hook for a goal, which became three points. Then the Goodyears sank a free throw, and the Titans flashed into the lead with baskets by Rush, Cope and Morstadt. With the score 9-3 in favor of Akron, the Titans came to life and a battery of baskets by Bennett and Grubb showed the Titans in the lead, 11-9.

The Titans led the Titans in the quarter and the play ended with the Titans one point up on the Goodyears, 15-14.

Tired of such a close game, Krivosh, Willits, Bennett and Backus all scored at the opening of the last frame to take a 10-point lead, but Akron became score-minded long enough to almost tie the Titans, 27-25. Then while the Titans added 14 points in the closing 10 minutes the Goodyears could get only three. Every Titan try seemed to be good enough for a basket.

Very Rough Game Akron looked good at brief intervals, but lacked any of the determination to win that brought the Titans through with a last-half scoring spree. The game was the roughest one of the year for Westminister, three men leaving the game on fouls.

After a week-end rest the Titans met the Bethany Bisons in a return game on the New Wilmington floor Thursday night at 8:15. The Bisons will be out for the Titans' scalps after the drubbing the Titans handed them on the West Virginia home floor.

Saturday at New Wilmington comes the biggest game of the year for Westminister, when Carnegie Tech travels down to the Titan campus to play a return game. No defeat in years upsets defeat handed them early in the season.

The Goodyear-Westminister score: Westminister G. F. T. L. Hunneke, f. 3 1 7. Krivosh, f. 0 3 3. Grubb, f. 1 1 3. Backus, c. 2 2 2. Bennett, g. 5 3 13. Willits, g. 2 3 7. Demo, g. 2 2 6.

Five Of Baseball Immortals Chosen

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Feb. 3.—In the pursuit of his fabled search for baseball immortals whose names will adorn a plaque at Cooperstown, N. Y., Henry P. Edwards, secretary of the Baseball Writers Association today announced that he had unearthed five of them.

They are Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Honus Wagner, Christy Mathewson and Walter Johnson.

Cobb Ranks First In short, these were the heroes who drew a seventy-five per cent vote among the experts whose business it is to regale the English-speaking clients with the deeds and misdeeds of the baseball players. The writers were asked to pick out ten players of the modern era.

Ty Cobb, of course, drew the most votes. But somewhere among the 226 baseball experts who voted were four who had overlooked the Georgia peach. In his list of suggestions for the great minds to ponder, Mr. Edwards included Cobb and appended the notation: "Enough said." Mr. Edwards who wrote about "Three Old Cats" during the reign of Napoleon, or shortly thereafter, thought everybody knew about Cobb.

Fame Is Fleeting But Mr. Edwards was wrong. Alas, there were four of the experts who had not heard about the scintillating Georgian who went into baseball as a scrawny youngster and came out with a million dollars.

Mr. Edwards was equally emphatic about the rating of George Herman Ruth, who for many years amazed everybody with his achievements as a home run hitter and a consumer of hot dogs, only to be booed out of baseball in the end. Yet the eminent Mr. Ruth polled only 215 votes out of a possible 226. There were eleven experts who hadn't heard about him.

In the cases of Wagner, Mathewson and Johnson were even worse violations of memory. Wagner drew well to poll 215 votes, but Mathewson got only 205 while Johnson, who could throw with incredible speed, was held to 189 votes.

Sports Scribes Have Grand Time

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—The fifth annual baseball writers' roundup, held this year in honor of Hans Wagner, Pittsburgh Pirate coach, and baseball's beloved veteran, was but a memory today.

Casting aside their typewriters for grease paint and thesaurus "props", local sports scribes played host to more than 700 persons, among them many notables of the sports, political and business worlds who came to pay tribute to the "grand old man of baseball."

The 24 acts lampooning practically every sports personage and enterprise in Pittsburgh were the feature of the evening.

George Kotlarek Is Ski Champion

(International News Service) RED WING, Minn., Feb. 3.—George Kotlarek of Duluth today held the national ski jumping championship.

The Minnesota veteran, leaping into a moderate cross wind off a slide abbreviated to alleviate dangerous landing conditions, cleared 164 and 169 feet in his two jumps and 224.6 points from the judges.

He just nosed out Einar Fredboe of Salt Lake City, who soared 157 feet and was awarded 220.7 points.

If a political speaker doesn't believe what he says, he is lying. If he does believe it, he is dumb.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Kit Klein, Buffalo, won the world's speed skating title for women Sunday at Stockholm, by finishing second in the 5,000 meter race after scoring two victories in the shorter events. She won the 500 meter and 3,000 meter races Saturday but Sunday landed only third place in the 1,000 meter event. This place gave her a second in the distance race and a winning point total. In the deciding race the Buffalo girl trailed Verne Lesche of Finland, who broke her own record by skating the distance in 10 minutes, 15.3 seconds. Her previous mark was 10:28.3.

Cornell is seeking a successor to Gil Dobie, who resigned as head coach of football recently. He abandoned the reins after 16 years work at the institution. It has been reported that no graduate will take Dobie's place and that the best possible coach will be employed.

This week's boxing menu will be featured by two former champions, Jack Sharkey and Battling Battalino. Sharkey will fight Tony Shucro, of Boston in a 10-round bout at Boston, Friday night and Battalino, will take Brescia Garcia, of Mexico, in a 10-round bout at New York. Sharkey was knocked off the heavyweight perch by Primo Carnera and Freddie Miller took the featherweight crown from Battalino.

George Kotlarek, Duluth, Minn., veteran, soared from a slide abbreviated to eliminate dangerous landing conditions to take the National Ski jumping championship at Red Wing, Minn., yesterday. Leaping into a moderate cross-wind he cleared 164 feet and 169 feet in his two jumps to edge out Einar Fredboe, Salt Lake, Utah, for the crown.

Rafael Legion, Cuban, defeated Rafael Molina, in a welterweight championship bout at Havana yesterday. A second $1,500 thirty-six hole open golf tournament has been set for Miami, February 17-18. Russell Ball, El Paso, won the Western indoor tennis title by beating Phil Hanna, Los Angeles, 5-6, 2-3, 6-0, 6-0 in the finals at Chicago yesterday. He succeeded his brother, George, who had been eliminated by Hanna in the fourth round.

Presbyterians And St. Paul Scheduled For Important Game

Church A League First Half Championship Will Be Decided Tonight

The First Presbyterians and St. Paul's Lutherans will play an important church A league basketball game tonight at the Y. M. C. A. floor. If the Presbyterians win the game they will also take the first half championship in the league.

The St. Pauls can tie for the leadership by a victory.

There is a lot of interest in this crucial game for tonight and a big crowd will no doubt pack the Y. M. C. A. floor. The First Presbyterians are confident of taking the measure of the Lutherans.

The second game will find the first M. E. team battling the Third U. P. in a church A tilt, and the third game will have the Tifereth Israel against a fast team, unnamed as yet.

SHENANGOS WIN

Shenango basketball team capped its tenth victory of the season, defeating the Holy Name five by a 27-11 count, in a fast game played at senior high gymnasium. Cagnetti was high scorer with 13 points. Waslin proved outstanding for the Hoosiers, call 4049-R and ask for Al Cozza.

FALCON RESERVES WIN

Eddie Kozzola was star for the Falcons with 11 points while Sniezek also played a fine game. Szyzolski was the best for the Meadvillians.

Football Coaches Suggest Changes

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Feb. 3.—Football fans and officials today were considering six changes in the college grid code recommended by the rules committee of the National Football Coaches' Association following its all-day conference here.

The recommendations will be presented to the National Collegiate Athletic Association which meets later this month at Palm Springs, Cal., and it was believed, all will be officially adopted.

Two Major Changes Two major changes suggested were the abandonment of the "slow whistle," and a change of the penalty of running into a punter, making the down and objective the same as before the foul rather than a first down.

Minor proposals included: That small colleges unable to afford four officials be permitted to appoint two men on the sidelines to keep time and keep track of substitutes.

That players wear numerals on both sides of jerseys.

That all periods end with the sounding of a gun instead of a whistle at the end of the first and third quarters.

That a uniform interpretation be made of the exact distance "decoys" must stay away from eligible receivers.

County Quintets To Play Tuesday

Union Goes To Mt. Jackson, East Brook Goes To Evans City

NEW WILMINGTON GOES TO WAMPUM

Three games will be played by the County High school basketball teams Tuesday night.

East Brook High members of Section 22 will go to Evans City for a battle with the League leaders of the Evans Cityians earlier in the year and hope to repeat.

Union High will play a county league battle at the Mt. Jackson High floor and will be after revenge for the setback given the Boyden earlier in the year by the Mt. Jackson quintet.

New Wilmington High will go to Wampum for a county league game. Wampum upset the College Town boys earlier in the year and will be out to make it two straight tomorrow night.

Nittany Lions To Meet Mountaineers

Feature Of Lions Activities Will Be Floor Game

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 3.—Featured by the meeting of the Nittany Lion basketball team and West Virginia University, Penn State will engage in six athletic contests at home this Saturday. Five varsity and one freshman team will see action.

Boxing and wrestling—two sports in which State is represented by particularly powerful teams—will find the Lions opposing M. I. T. and many others. The swimmers and gymnasts will open their seasons against Syracuse and Illinois, and the freshman basketball quintet will meet the Bucknell yearlings.

Encouraged by one-sided victories over Michigan and Temple, the Lion wrestling team after a two weeks layoff caused by examinations are expected to see the Panthers.

Next week Coach Spelde's team will travel to Bethlehem for a crucial tilt with Lehigh, Eastern Intercollegiate champions.

"Kayo" Morgan Trails Escobar

Morgan Returns After Winning Consistently In Scotland

(International News Service) DETROIT—If Kayo Morgan can catch up with Sixto Escobar there will be a new bantamweight champion of the world, according to Harry (Scotty the Bricklayer) Baxter, who recently returned with his fighter from a triumphant invasion of Great Britain.

"I mean it," Baxter declared. "You should see the way Morgan is fighting. Scotland is crazy about him, and English promoters chased us to death trying to get us to sign for fights in London and elsewhere."

Morgan, whose real name is Andrew Exposito, only a few years ago was glad to get $17 a bout hereabouts. A natural clown, he was a favorite with fight fans more for his funny antics in the ring than for his boxing skill as a boxer.

Morgan managed to turn serious often enough to hang up an impressive string of victories, after which he and Baxter decided on a trip abroad.

"Morgan had six fights in Scotland," Baxter recalled. "winning four by knockouts and two by decisions. Believe me when I tell you that he was a great favorite in that country. In his first fight in Glasgow, Morgan knocked Johnny McGroarty in seven rounds, the only knockout the featherweight champion of Scotland ever suffered."

Ambridge High Here Tuesday For Loop Tilt

New Castle Will Try For Second Win Of Season Over Valleyites

Ambridge High school basketball team will come to New Castle Tuesday night for a Section Three encounter with the New Castle High "Red Hurricanes." The game will be played at George Washington High gym.

The preliminary game will find the Ambridge and New Castle Reserves battling at 7 o'clock.

New Castle High must win all of the remaining league games to figure in the race for the title and even by accomplishing this feat the Altiupians and Beaver Falls High teams would have to lose two more games.

Covelli-Adams Guards The Bridenbaughmen will be forced to play Beaver Falls at the latter's court and Ellwood City at the Ellwood floor before the season ends. There are two home games after tomorrow night as follows—Alliquippa and Butler, New Castle defeated Ambridge at Ambridge earlier in the season.

With the passing of Toscano and Cabas, Coach Bridenbaugh has used the Covelli, DeCaprio and Adams at the Covelli, Carik and Mumford will look after the forward jobs, with Grommes at the center.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner announced today that Begas, Snyder and Leo Carroll will handle the game.

KEYSTONE MIDGETS WIN

Keystone A. C. Midgets handed the D.C. Youngs a 19 to 12 setback in the Young Boys' basketball league at the "Y" Saturday afternoon. The playing of Santangelo, Gennock, and Covelli was the best for the Keys. The Key Midgets want games with teams from 12 to 15 years old. Frank Vigniano is the coach, and Carm Benincase is the business manager.

Lions Lose Seven By Graduation

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Feb. 3.—Penn State's varsity squads lost seven athletes last week at mid-year graduation, an unusually large number. Five Nittany teams were depleted by the January commencement.

Captain Bob Weber, Erie, left tackle on the football team received his diploma and with it a bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering. Weber will also be missed from the lacrosse team this spring.

George L. Corbett, Philadelphia, member of the undefeated soccer team: George Harvey, DuBois, captain of track and cross-country, and Joseph Surmaitis, Troop, cross-country team, were other athletes who were graduated.

Last week Coach Spelde's team will travel to Bethlehem for a crucial tilt with Lehigh, Eastern Intercollegiate champions.

NEW CASTLE CELTICS

The New Castle Celtics basketball team handed the Troop 3 basketball team a 34 to 25 defeat at the "Y" floor in a boys league game. The stars for the Celtics were Joe Johnston, Matthews, Reebie, and Henderson. For the losers the work of Woodcock and B. McNeil was the best.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Awaiting supreme court decision on the TVA, inflation bloc developments in Congress and dividend meetings of General Motors, International Nickel and a half a dozen other large corporations, stocks marked time this morning with a slightly easier tone developing. Oils and steel shares displayed strength but gains were virtually all wiped out later when the general list tended to soften.

Gold and silver shares showed a slightly better tone than the rest of the market, with American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco and McIntyre gaining fractionally.

Oils were steadied by announcement of a reduction of 1,297,000 barrels in crude oil stocks and also by strength in oil equities in the London market.

Reals were mixed, with Atchafalaya losing a point while New York Central was fractionally higher. Can stocks were again easier, with American Can down a point.

A mild rally in aviation shares imparted a better tone to the whole market with Chrysler, for instance, which was down 1½ at one time, reducing its net loss to less than a point. General Motors was off half a point.

Cotton rose 80 cents a bale. Government bonds were quiet despite the break in the dollar, which carried the French franc and Dutch guilder above the gold export point.

King Edward Is Fight FanKing Edward VIII Will Attend Fights As Soon As Mourning Period
EndsBy PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—No less a personage than his Majesty King Edward VIII of England, the world's ranking fight fan, will sponsor a movement to find a vertical British heavyweight capable of restoring the ring glory the empire knew under a long line of battling sons from Bendigo to Jem Mace, Charley Mitchell and Ruby Bob Fitzsimmons.

The newly crowned monarch, International News Service learned today, is expected to smash another royal precedent by attending fights as soon as the period of mourning for King George is ended.

This information was contained in letters from British promoters and managers to Dave Lumiansky, manager of Jock McAvoy, British middleweight and light heavyweight champion.

Hot Fight Fan

"I never saw a hotter fight fan than his majesty when he was the Prince of Wales," Lumiansky said. "I remember seeing him come into the dressing rooms of various fighters both before and after fights. Everybody in the room of course would click heels and hop to attention and invariably the Prince would wave his arm at them all and say 'at ease, boys.'"

If a British boy was going to fight a foreigner the prince probably would wish him luck and remind him that he was expected to do his best.

Highly Respected

"Once I saw a remarkable demonstration of the esteem in which the present king is held by all his subjects. He came in to Albert Hall with two aides while a fight was in progress and moved down to his seat in the front row. Not a word was said but every man in that audience stood and, believe it or not, the referee halted the fight until the prince had taken his seat! "He makes no bones about showing his disgust over a horizontal heavyweight and I'm sure if he goes to a fight as king, which would not surprise me at all, you can bet the boys will do their stuff."

Reconciliation Of Former King Alfonso
And Queen Probable

(International News Service)

ROME, Feb. 3.—Former King Alfonso and former Queen Ena (Victoria) of Spain will be reconciled only if the political situation in Madrid appears to favor recall of the deposed monarch to a restored throne, International News Service learned today.

Persons close to the ex-king disclosed this as Ena who slipped quietly into Rome over the weekend on a visit from London, remained in seclusion at the Villa Savoia as a private guest of the Italian royal family.

Ena is in Rome to be present at the birth of a child to her daughter, the Infanta Beatrice, wife of Don Alessandro Torlonia. His mother was the former Elsie Moore of New York.

When Ena left London it was reported she might be bound on a reconciliation mission, but it was learned today no meeting between the former Spanish rulers had been arranged. Any meeting they do have will be kept strictly secret. They have been separated for several years.

(International News Service)

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Ten thousand butchers and deliverymen in famed Smithfield wholesale meat market went on strike today, and London's millions faced a meatless week as the strike began to spread among thousands of docks and railside meat carriers.

Strong reinforcements of police were called out to patrol the market, in the heart of London. Hundreds of retail meat dealers waited for hours in the hope that the picket lines would break and they would be able to buy their day's supply of meat.

Instead they were greeted only with songs and shouts of the strikers, who downed their cleavers on London's busiest meat-trading day.

SOUTHERN FORESTS AIDED BY FEDERAL ACTIVITY

Young pine trees growing into a new timber crop

Despite denunciation by the late Senator Huey P.

Long of the bill creating the CCC and associated activities, improvements in southern forests have gone ahead. As if in defiance to the late senator's views, the U. S. forest service planked a tree nursery down in the center of Louisiana, where,

this year, the government is growing 20,000,000 seedlings for transplanting in areas devoid of timber. Above photo shows some of the young pine trees in Grant parish, Louisiana, growing into a new timber crop, thanks to the protection from grass fires by the CCC.

Speakers Named For Scout Dinner

Aliquippa School Head,
Youngstown Man Coming Friday Night

ALL OF COUNTY TO SHARE IN PROGRAM

Dr. H. R. Vandershoe, superintendent of schools in Aliquippa, and Cy Firth, prominent in the work of the Mahoning County council of the Boy Scouts at Youngstown, were today announced as the principal speakers for the annual dinner-meeting of the Lawrence County council in the First Christian church here on Friday evening,
February 7 at 6:30 o'clock.

The dinner event, planned as one of the features of Boy Scout anniversary week, will bring together scout leaders from all parts of the county.

A letter today went out to all scout leaders urging them to make reservations at once. Thursday, February 6 at 4 o'clock is the deadline set for reservations.

Scout Commissioner Ralph F.
Davis, handling arrangements for the program and the dinner, has prepared an interesting evening's program with Dr. Vandershoe and Mr. Firth as speakers and with musical entertainment to feature.
Council President L. B. Round will

Chrysler Employees Share 1935 Profits

Fund Of $2,300,000 Is Distributed Among 59,000
Workers Of Corporation

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Chrysler
Corp. today acted to share its 1935 profits with its employees, announcing a bonus distribution of $2,300,- 000 to its 59,000 employees, or a minimum payment of $30 a worker.

The distribution fund has been appropriated out of earnings, which are reported in Wall street to have jumped in 1935 to over $8 a share from $2.19 in 1934. The annual report is expected to be released in a day or two and it is understood directors are considering boosting the dividend from the present $3 rate.

The bonus distribution will be made to all employees who were on the payrolls of the corporation during any part of the first quarter of 1935, it was announced by Walter P.
Chrysler, chairman, and K. T. Keller, president.

A special distribution also will be made in Chrysler plants in Canada,
England and Belgium.

This year's payment follows a similar bonus disbursement by General Motors Corp. of $25 an employee, or a total of $5,000,000 to 200,000 workers, at Christmas time.

But why spend $250 for a Sinclair Lewis book when there are so many cheaper ways to get a bad taste in your mouth?

Predicts Return For Prohibition Inside Of 25 Years

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, Feb. 3.—Predicting national prohibition would "return for good" with 25 years, Maj. Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired, warned members of the Maryland anti-saloon league to beware of "fanaticism and bigotry."

"It's awful the way the young people are learning to drink," he said, "but it's not their fault, it's ours. Our duty is not to beat the children because they drink; it is the duty of the elders to see to it the next generation can't get it."

Butler said liquor and war are the two big "rackets" because they yield the greatest profits.

Ramsay MacDonald Is Elected Today To Commons Seat

(International News Service)
LONDON, Feb. 3.—Ramsay MacDonald's continued position in the cabinet was assured today when he was elected to the House of Commons from the combined Scottish universities by a plurality of 7,359 over Dewar Gibbs, a Scottish Nationalist candidate.

His son, Malcolm, is dominions secretary in the cabinet, and faces a hard battle to win a seat in the house in another bye-election.

Lineman Dies Of Severe Burns As Result Of Shock

(International News Service)
UNIONTOWN, Pa., Feb. 3.—William Wilson, 40, survived 4,000 volts of electricity only to succumb to burns, according to authorities today.

A spark ignited the victim's clothing when the current surged thru his body as he worked on a transmission line in the West Penn power house at Connelestown. Four workmen who sought to save his life by wrapping him in their coats were treated for burns.

Pope Cancels His Audiences Today

Pontiff Suffering From Slight
Head Cold An Cancels
Activities

(International News Service)
VATICAN CITY, Feb. 3.—Pope Pius today again cancelled public audiences, confining his day's work to less trying activities.

This was the third time in the past four days the pontiff had postponed these audiences. Last week he was suffering from a slight cold and the audiences were cancelled as a precautionary measure. In greeting the public the pope ordinarily does much walking through cold rooms in the vatican.

The pontiff was compelled to remain indoors today. Yesterday vatican officials said the pope was in the finest of health. He presided over a one-hour ceremony of the candles for the Feast of the Purification, and later received relatives in private and then the governor of the city of Rome.

Organizations Here Plan 'Fasching Ball'

Plans for the observance of one of Germany's popular native customs, the annual Fasching ball, were in the making today for the German Beneficial Union and the New Castle Eintracht society.

The German Beneficial Union members will participate in their festival at the G. B. U. hall on February 14 while the Eintracht organization will hold its celebration in its hall on February 21.

The Fasching ball always takes place before the opening of the Lent season.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP NO. 14

Girl Scouts of Troop 14 held their weekly meeting Thursday evening in St. Mary's church auditorium. The session opened with a series of knot games, followed by patrol corners to discuss when a discussion was called in regard to their coming court of awards. Interest groups was the next feature, and the second class Girl Scouts were divided into two groups, one being assigned mapping problems and the other outfit, signalling.

Dolores Burgoon, Stella Habib, Lois Ann Deely, Betty Callahan, Dolores Callahan, Mildred Stundard, Margaret Stundard, Zada Wadlinger and Margaret Mary Gartland, all second class scouts, passed in their signalling tests. Several others passed their first class signalling.

Songs entitled "Donkey Riding" and "Oh, Mr. Moon" were sung by the group followed by taps and court of honor which concluded the meeting.

Scribe, Stella Habib.

TROOP NO. 6

Girl Scout Troop No. 6 held its regular Saturday morning meeting in the Orr building. Games were played and patrol corners were held. After some group singing, interest groups were held. The meeting was closed with taps.

Scribe, Joan Thompson.

The legend of the drooping of the leaves of the willow trees according to tradition is that the handle of the spear used to pierce the side of Christ was composed of the wood of the willow tree.
